JURY PONDERING SHEPPARD CASE

Free World Leaders Agree On A-Policy

Ministers Decide Who To Trigger Bomb, But Stall Announcement

PARIS (AP)—Leaders of the free world today adopted a new defense strategy based on atomic firepower and agreed on the way new weapons can be used in the event of an attack by Communists.

The foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 14 North Atlantic Treaty powers set the role of atomic weapons during a tightly closed session. They promised a communique on their decision later today or tomorrow.

After adoption of defense plans drafted by the chiefs of staff of NATO members, giving nuclear firepower a place in NATO's "new look" arsenal, the ministers excluded most of their advisers from the closed meeting. Then they took up the controversial question of who can decide on a resort to atomic arms—military men or their governments.

No immediate word on this discussion leaked out, and NATO officials would say only that the ministers had reached

Dixon-Yates Project Seen Being Stalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The timetable of a Securities and Exchange Commission hearing appeared certain today to give the new Congress a chance to revise or kill the controversial Dixon-Yates private power contract before construction work is started.

A company official has said little actual work will be done before the SEC approves financing arrangements, and SEC Chairman Ralph H. Demmler indicated yesterday a decision on initial phases was unlikely before Feb. 1.

The new Congress convenes Jan. under control of Democrats, some of whom have been sharply critical of the Eisenhower administration's plan to purchase private power for use in the Tennessee Valley Authority system.

Dixon-Yates has concluded a 25-year contract with AEC for furnishing the TVA with some of the additional power it may supply atom plants in the future. The utility group proposes building a $107 million plant at West Memphis, Ark.

The SEC is considering plans for the group to invest $5½ million in the newly created Mississippi Valley Generating Co., formed to handle the project.

On this phase, Chairman Demmler announced yesterday, the commission will close hearings Dec. 23 and will give opposing lawyers until Jan. 18 to file all additional legal arguments. Demmler has said the commission may reach a decision two weeks after that.

Red Chief Invites U. N. Aide For Talks About U. S. Fliers

LONDON (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai said today he will receive U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in Peiping, but left in doubt just how far he will go in discussing the 11 imprisoned American airmen.

Chou sent two communications to the United Nations. One denounced again the U. N. resolution of Dec. 10 which instructed Hammarskjold to seek release of the imprisoned airmen. The other contained acceptance of Hammarskjold's proposal for a meeting with Chou.

The second communication, as broadcast from Peiping, said:

"Regarding the United States spies mentioned in your cable, our position has been set forth in my other able addressed to you.

"In the interests of peace and relaxation of international tension, I am prepared to receive you in our capital Peiping to discuss with you pertinent questions."

This seemed to say Red China had settled the case of the fliers, but was ready to talk about other things. These latter might include the question of seating Red China in the United Nations, a question the U. N. General Assembly at its opening session this year decided to shelve for the remainder of the year.

In the message preceding his ... tance Cable, Chou said the United States had connived at the "forcible retention" of more than 27,000 North Korran and Chinese Communist prisoners.

This was a reference to Red troops captured in Korea who refused repatriation back to Communist territory and were released in South Korea by the U. N. Allies.

"If one speaks of the question of prisoners of war in Korea, it is the United States . . . which has violated the Korean armistice agreement," Chou said.

Red China stands as a convicted aggressor before the U.N. because of its action in the Korean War, and also stands condemned for its action in holding the fliers.

Nevertheless, Hammarskjold was instructed by the General Assembly to see what he could do about releasing the Americans, and he decided to make a trip to Peiping if Red China would invite him.

He now has the invitation. There is some doubt whether he would be willing to discuss with Peiping any questions not covered in his original request—that is, the flier case. But obviously if he goes to Peiping, as he undoubtedly will, he would accept any communication the Red China regime desired to send to the United Nations.

It was expected, however, that he would go ahead with preious plans to fly to Sweden tonight for the weekend and, after returning here briefly next week, would fly on to Peiping.

Hammarskjold had planned his trip to Sweden originally for ceremonies installing him in his late father's seat in the Swedish Academy of Letters. Yesterday it became known he planned also to see the Red Chinese ambassador in Stockholm about his proposed trip to Peiping, and it was expected he now would discuss arrangements for the trip with the envoy.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Will Be Here Saturday

Final arrangements have been made for the year's last visit of the mobile x-ray unit, a widely commended service made possible by the sale of Christmas Seals.

The unit will be at Court and Main streets in Circleville Saturday, offering free chest x-rays, for a one-day visit.

For those who desire the chest examinations, hours of the mobile unit have been announced as follows:

From 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m., and from 7 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

* * *

CITY AND county health officials have warned all workers in food-serving places that they are required, by state law, to have an ... examination made when one is available free of charge.

The x-ray unit is one of the outstanding services provided through the Pickaway County Tuberculosis and Health Association. The association is guiding the local Easter Seal campaign, aimed this year at a goal of $4,750 in this district.

Those who have yet to contribute to the seal campaign have been urged to send their donations without further delay.

Jets Salute First Flight By Airplane

KILL DEVIL HILLS, N. C. (AP)—Fifteen Air Force jets will flash over beaches here at 500 miles per hour today, 51 years later to the day that the Wright brothers flew their first plane 31 miles per hour over the same sand dunes.

The jets, F84F Thunderstreaks from Langley Air Force Base, Va., are participating in ceremonies at the Wright Brothers National Monument commemorating the first powered flight of a heavier-than-air machine Dec. 17, 1903.

It was then that Orville and Wilbur Wright, from Dayton, Ohio, flew their plane here.

Aero clubs, flying groups and the air-minded public generally scheduled meetings to celebrate the first powered flight.

The major celebration—actually, a series of aviation meetings—is occurring in Washington, D. C. But the most colorful, sentimental and memory-tinged gathering is around the gaunt, severely simple hilltop memorial to the famous first flight near Kitty Hawk, N. C.

Topping the Washington events was the award by President Eisenhower, at the White House of the Collier Trophy for "outstanding achievement in aviation" to two famed plane builders. They are J. H. (Dutch) Kindelberger, president of North American Aviation, Inc., Los Angeles, and E. H. Heinmann, chief engineer of Douglas Aircraft Co., Santa Monica, Calif., honored for developing the first supersonic fighter planes.

Fayette County Sheriff's Wife Makes Arrest

WASHINGTON C. H. (AP)—Seldom does Mrs. Lulu Hays, chief deputy sheriff of Fayette County, have an opportunity to make an arrest. She takes care of the office for her husband, Sheriff Orland Hays.

But yesterday, Mrs. Hays had just finished typing descriptions of two men wanted for a Waterloo, Iowa, burglary when a man walked into her office.

She looked the man over, and then said: "Your name Johnson?"

"Yes," replied the visitor who had gone to the jail to leave cigarets for a friend held there.

"Then you're under arrest," said Mrs. Hays.

Paul Johnson, 28, of Fayette County, was held for Iowa authorities. Later deputies took into custody Hank Evans, 30, and also held him for Waterloo police. The deputies said they recovered some musical instruments and a rifle reported stolen in Waterloo.

Mrs. Hays explained she had just received descriptions of two men from city police who in turn had been notified by Iowa authorities.

Some Rain, Snow Seen In Midwest

CHICAGO (AP)—Snow or rain fell over sections of the midcontinent today but generally fair weather prevailed in other parts of the country.

A wide band of snow or rain extended from Minnesota and Wisconsin southward to east Texas. Snow in the Chicago area was light, measuring about one half inch. But Des Moines reported 2 inches, with snow continuing.

Engineer Strike Lasts 7 Hours

CINCINNATI (AP)—A flash strike of 50 locomotive engineers and 200 other Southern Railway trainmen, ended this morning at 5 a. m., seven hours after it began.

The dispute was over company refusal to use an engineer without justification, pickets of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Union (independent) said.

Pope Remains Gravely Ill And Weak

That was the report today on his over-all general condition from Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi. The pontiff's private physician's statement confirmed previous word from Vatican sources that despite optimistic reports following X-ray examinations yesterday the pope's condition remains serious.

The substitute Vatican secretary of state, Msgr. Angelo Dell'Acqua, said today the pope showed signs of "great fatigue" because of the long examination but was "better than yesterday."

The pope's ailment, diagnosed after the X-rays yesterday as a small hernia of the esophagus and gastritis, also is accompanied by hemorrhaging resulting in a slow loss of blood. This, it was said, is partly responsible for the weakened condition and anemia of the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church.

The pope was reported to have passed a "rather agitated" night last night, his sleep interrupted by hiccup attacks. Dr. Galeazzi-Lisi spent the night at his bedside or in an adjoining chamber, as he has done for nearly a month.

The tests yesterday set at rest fears the pontiff had an ulcer and might need immediate surgery. Dr. Galeazzi-Lisi said the course of treatment now will aim to increase his strength.

Russian Bear May Resume Growling Soon

Another Period Of Hard Attitudes Seen Coming From Red Headquarters

Such a switch would not necessarily reduce the chances which now appear to exist for improving basic contacts between Moscow and the rest of the world.

It would tend to increase tensions a little and to show more clearly the essentially antagonistic nature of Communist policy toward non-Communist nations.

These views are held by responsible Washington officials, some of them highly placed. The views are speculative. They are based on several considerations, including:

1. An assumption that Russia's plugging of "peaceful coexistence" during the last year has been aimed primarily at lulling West European countries into relaxation and thereby blocking the rearmament of West Germany.

2. The reasonable certainty that, despite Russia's efforts, both France and Germany will ratify the pending agreements under which West Germany would be armed and made a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The treaties last night passed a first reading in West Germany's lower house of parliament.

* * *

3. A BELIEF that some degree of hostility toward the outside world is necessary to justify to people under any Red dictatorship the burdens and restraints imposed on them.

Final European action on ratification of the various agreements on Germany is expected early next year. After that there may be a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting.

Utility Rate Law Report Readied

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Legislative Service Commsision has voted to give the incoming Legislature a subcommittee report on Ohio utility-rate laws, minus recommendations.

The commission rejected a proposal to be recorded favoring correction "by appropriate legislation" of the present Ohio public utility rate base formula.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who has advocated a "fair value" formula, said Wednesday it was "shocking and disappointing" to him that the subcommittee did not propose change in the rate base method.

Southern Railway Engineers Strike

CINCINNATI (AP) — Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers were on strike today against the Southern Railway.

Pickets said the company had refused to use an engineer without cause or justification.

The walkout of the 40 engineers at the Cincinnati division occurred at 11 p. m. yesterday. J. T. Moon, general manager, said the railroad was caught totally unaware.

The Southern's routes run from Cincinnati to Lexington, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Jancksonville.

THERE SEEMS to be a slight lack of participation here as the "Angel Choir" of the New York Children's Aid society rehearses. Bubble gum culprit is Milan Belor, 5.

World Won't End Tuesday, But Trouble Due, Prof Says

CHICAGO (AP)—A jobless college doctor predicts the world will be racked with terrible trouble next Tuesday but says he never said it would be the end of the world.

Violent upheavals in the form of disastrous life-engulfing tidal waves will strike down man near Lake Michigan and on the east-Charles Laughead, who until Wednesday was a staff doctor at Michigan State College.

The doctor claims a contact with "outer space" and says communications indicate catastrophic events for the world.

These views led to Laughead's departure from MSC, in the form of a resignation which he said was demanded.

The president of the college, Dr. John A. Hannah, said the college had no objection to Laughead's beliefs but objected to the doctor's "propagandizing" students "on a peculiar set of beliefs of questionable validity."

* * *

LAUGHEAD SAID he was asked to resign and said he assumed it was because of his "hobby" which is "flying saucers and other matters having to d owith outer space.

The doctor said the persons with whom he is in contact receive their communications by various means, some as a spiritual medium would by code tappings, some through voices and others "through actual contact with men in flying saucers."

"I know two fellows in Detroit who were picked up and given rides in flying saucers," he said.

He said such geological phenomena have occurred many times before in the history of the earth. He cited such examples as volcanic eruptions burying cities, mountains arising from the earth's crust, and islands emerging from oceans.

Several persons were in Mrs. Dorothy Martin's home during the interview, including a schoolteacher, a man in his 30s and a youth who would only give his name as "Paul."

Mrs. Martin described how she received her communications from outer space.

"My arm feels warm," she said. 'It's hard to explain, but I just put a pencil to paper and write."

* * *

HER FIRST communication, she said, was simply an introduction to a superior being who said he was "Elder Brother from Venus."

She, too, believes the flying saucers are playing a vital part in the communications, but she said, "don't call them by that vulgar term, say 'discs.' "

Mrs. Martin also was vague about her plans, saying only, "we are awaiting further word."

Mrs. Martin said her communicators have been telling her the cause of the cataclysms will be "fault lines" in the earth's crust.

She said the upheaval will form a sea covering the central part of North America and the west coast will be submerged.

Dr. Laughead said he did not plan to go to a mountain top in Vermont to be picked up by people in vehicles from outer space, as reported, because "they will make their own selections in their own way."

5 Possible Verdicts Face Accused Medic

7-Man, 5-Woman Panel Starts Deliberations At 10:13 a.m. Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—A jury in common pleas court today began deiberating the fate of Dr. Sam Sheppard, the 30-year-old osteopath who is charged with bludgeoning to death his wife, Marilyn, 31.

The jury received the case at 10:13 a. m., EST.

Judge Edward Blythin delivered a 36-minute charge to the jury in which he gave them five possible verdicts in the charge of murder.

The five possible verdicts are:

1. Guilty of first-degree murder without recommendation of mercy, which carries a mandatory death sentence.

2. Guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy; the penalty in this decision is mandatory life imprisonment.

3. Guilty of second-degree murder, which carries a life prison sentence with possibility of parole in 10 years.

4. Guilty of manslaughter, carrying a penalty of one to 20 years.

5. Acquittal.

* * *

JUDGE BLYTHIN told the seven men and five women deliberating the case that they should not recommend mercy out of sympathy or to evade an unpleasant duty.

In a lengthy explanation of the law, the judge told the jurors it is not necessary to prove motive under Ohio law. And he explained that circumstantial evidence must be carefully considered.

Most of the jurors are middle-aged, but two of the men are not yet 30. Sheppard will be 31 Dec. 29.

Four of the five women on the jury have children. Mrs. Ann W. Foote, dark, pretty and alert in manner, is the mother of five. Mrs. Luella Williams has four grown children. Sheppard's son Chip is now 7.

Ike To Light Big Yule Tree In Ceremony

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower lights Washington's community Christmas tree at dusk today as a beacon heralding throughout the world the holiday message of "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

The President planned a six-minute address over major radio and TV networks, scheduled for about 5:15 p. m. EST.

The ceremonies opened the national capital's first Pageant of Peace, a three-week celebration in which representatives of 30 nations will participate in religious and holiday observances.

In advance, the President arranged to receive at the White House the children of six United Nations employes from India, Ecquador, Canada, France, the Philippines and the United States.

Furthering the international theme, U. S. embassies and military posts abroad will light their own Christmas peace programs in coordination with the White House ceremony.

The Washington observance centered around a 65-foot Michigan fir erected on the Ellipse, a park adjoining the White House grounds. At its edge a speakers' stand was ready for the President.

The flat grounds of the Ellipse have been transformed into a child's paradise, complete with live reindeer, numerous small Christmas Trees from the participating nations, a life-size nativity scene and Christmas carol chimes.

General To Have Chat With Private About GI's Attitude On American Flag

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — Pvt. Bruce A. Wallace, studious but boyish looking at 24, has a date with his general today to explain how he feels about the flag.

Brig. Gen. John R. Burns is studying still another explanation Pvt. Wallace made under oath last week.

Gen. Burns said he would decide, after talking to the young mechanical engineer, whether to order him tried by a court-martial or let it go at a strong reprimand.

Wallace, from Ridgewood, N.J., declined to say another word until he sees the general, a fellow alumnus from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"I do not respect the flag and I did not feel it necessary for me to render proper respect to the flag at retreat if I am not in formation.

"My being in the Army has lessened my respect for the country. I feel that my service is unnecessary and a waste of time. I classify the flag as a symbol not requiring respect according to my religions."

The soldier's father Dwight Wallace said later his son was only "woolgathering" when he should have been saluting.

In his sworn statement of Dec. 6, Wallace denied he had said his Army service lessened his respect for the country and was unnecessary.

"As long as I was drafted I felt the duty to serve when called," he said. "I saw the Army as a practical necessity.

"To me the flag is a symbol and I feel my beliefs in 'the American way of life' directly. And I feel so with or without a flag.

"I respect the flag as I would a crucifix."

Wallace said his training in the Presbyterian and Unitarian churches discouraged respect for symbols.

Legal experts at 2nd Army headquarters at Ft. Meade advised Gen. Burns there was no case against Wallace for failure to salute, since "he actually intended no disloyalty or disaffection among the troops."

They suggested he might be tried by a special court-martial on a charge of actions "prejudicial to the good order and discipline of the armed forces" because of the "real feelings" he expressed to his lieutenant. Conviction could carry a sentence of confinement for three to six months with loss of pay.

The 2nd Army also suggested it could be handled by some "lesser action," like "company punishment." It usually means a reprimand and restriction to the post for a week or so.

Fake Charity Deal Broken Near Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP)—A fake charity racket in which donors were told they were giving money to support sports at schools has been uncovered in suburban Reading.

He was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses and released under $250 bond.

French Premier Mendes-France has suggested one for May.

Last August, the French Assembly killed the European Defense Community plan to rearm West Germany. It was a great victory for the Russians, whether or not their "peaceful coexistence" campaign had anything to do with it. Some experts here think the Assembly's vote was mainly a matter of French politics and anti-German traditions.

At any rate, there is high optimism that Western defense plans will not suffer another similar defeat in France. If this optimism proves justified, some American officials believe the main cause for Russia's backslapping campaign will have ceased to exist.

Meanwhile, of course, the Kremlin may think up some other reason to carry on, but developments in the last two days suggest this is not necessarily so.

Yesterday, for example, Russia formally warned France that ratification of the German treaties will annul a French-Russian mutual assistance treaty signed in 1944. Even though the Soviet line on this is familiar, the formal notice is a fairly tough action.

Two days ago the Soviet Foreign Ministry announced in a broadcast from Moscow that Russia supports Red China's claim on Formosa and denounced the defense pact which the United States signed with Nationalist China earlier this month.

Two Injuries, Two Accidents Reported Here

Although Safe Driving Day is only two days past, Pickaway County continues to roll a steady list of accidents.

During S-D Day, three mishaps in Pickaway County and one in Fairfield, just across the county line, all occurred on Route 22. Two were west of the city, the other two east.

Early Friday morning, the fifth accident took place on that same route. A Lancaster motorist received a laceration to his right ring finger when his car skidded sideways into a tree.

Delbert Shuttleworth, 22, told Deputy Sheriff Carl White that his car started to skid when he rounded a curve in the road. The accident occurred at 1:05 a. m., 500 feet west of E. Ringgold-Southern Rd., five miles east of Circleville.

* * *

THURSDAY NIGHT, a 12-year old boy suffered a fracturred left collar bone when he was struck by a car on the Circleville-London-Northern Rd., known as the Darbyville Pike.

Norvil C. Sparks, 36, the motorist, said he had his parking lights on while driving along the road. He saw a boy, Clarence Grayson, start across the highway and applied his brakes.

Unauthorized GOP Workers Accused Of Ballot Count

CINCINNATI (AP) — Unauthorized Republican party workers counted ballots in four precincts, the Hamilton County Board of Elections was told yesterday.

The board is investigating the counting of ballots in the Nov. 2 election. Many discrepancies have been uncovered.

Democrat Harry G. Glandorf said Robert Geghan, a Republican, "took active control of the voting place" after the tallying started.

George F. Eyrich Jr., a Republican member of the election board, said the board did not plan to question Geghan, GOP chairman of the 20th Ward and municipal court bailiff. He said:

"I'm not excusing Geghan. But the real culprits were the presiding judges who allowed the outsiders to count. The responsibilities were with the presiding judges."

hardware store manager, a construction superintendent, a railroad ticket office cashier, a tool and die maker, a receiving clerk for a chemical firm and a factory foreman.

During the lawyers' summations this week, Sheppard shifted his chair so that he was looking straight at the jury. He held a small metal object (it appeared to be a gold or gilded cross) in his hands. Usually, he sat with hands folded, as though in prayer.

But when the state was describing him as a liar, an adulterer, and a murderer, he kept a blank, stony look.

Several times, tears welled into his eyes and started to course down his cheeks. He covered his face with his handkerchief. References to his wife's unborn child frequently made him weep.

On the night of that July 3, two neighbors came to the Sheppard home for dinner. They left shortly after midnight.

* * *

AT THAT TIME Sheppard was stretched out on a couch in the downstairs living room. He says he fell into a deep sleep. When her guests were gone, Marilyn Sheppard went upstairs to bed.

Sheppard says he was awakened by her screams. He cannot say what time it was.

He rushed up to the bedroom. A "form," he says, was bending over his wife. He says he struggled with this assailant and almost instantly was knocked unconscious. When he came to, he says, he found his wife savagely beaten about the head and face. He touched her; she was dead.

Then, he says, he heard a noise downstairs, and caught sight of the "form" again, now in the yard, heading toward his beach, bordering Lake Erie.

He says he caught up with the "form" on the beach. He describes a large, powerfully built man with a big head and bushy hair. He again grappled with the prowler and again was struck down unconscious, he says.

He says when he regained consciousness the lake waves were washing over his body. He went back to the house.

Minutes before 6 a. m., he telephoned his friend, Bay Village Mayor Spencer Houk and said, "I think they've killed Marilyn."

The state does not believe this story.

Between the fixed times—when the neighbors left and when Sheppard telephoned Houk—the prosecution contends Sheppard was busy obliterating evidences of his crime, washing blood off himself and arranging the house to give the appearance of a burglary.

Rotary-Ann Gathering Hears How Poles Yearn For Liberty

The annual Rotary-Ann party was held at the EUB Community Center Thursday evening when approximately 80 Rotarians and Rotary-Anns heard a talk by the Rev. Howard Muma, pastor of the Broad St. Methodist Church, Columbus.

The Rev. Mr. Muma selected as title for his address, "The Finest News in the World"—referring to the manner in which people behind the Iron Curtain would gladly welcome the democratic way of life. He related many experiences he had in 1953, when he visited Warsaw, Poland.

He told of miserable conditions in that city as result of damage caused during World War II. Members of the post-war "underground", he assured his listeners, would consider it "the finest news" if they could be told the Soviet rule over them had ended.

Turning to America's own preparation for the Yuletide and all that it means, the Columbus minister said:

"We have so much to be thankful for at the Christmas season. And some of the finest news that could come to many homes in America is that there would be love and happiness for the home.

* * *

'HOME IS the place for peace, and for love—but too often we find unhappy homes, broken homes, and divorce. Yet, the home is America's foundation."

For a better life for any individual, the Rev. Mr. Muma recommended four rules:

1. Don't criticize, condemn or complain.
2. Give honest and sincere appreciation for work well done.
3. Learn to be 'a good guy to play next to.'
4. Realize that the greatest of life's rewards cannot come merely through dollars and cents.

9 From County Set To Serve On Committee

Seven men and two women have been elected to a nine-member citizens committee to make a survey of the various school districts in the county as ordered under Ohio House Bill 128.

In all, 16 names had been submitted by the convention — one from each township except Circleville plus one from Ashville.

The committee is now charged with the duty of making a report within a year. They are permitted, under the law, to make any recommendations for the merging of school districts.

No date has been set for any future meetings.

3 Circleville Men Among Graduates

Three Circleville men were among those honored Friday afternoon when diplomas were handed out to 544 graduates of the Autumn quarter at Ohio State University.

Among the graduates were: Richard E. Harrington, bachelor of chemical engineering; Karl C. Johnson, bachelor of science in business administration, and Charles G. Will, master of arts.

The commencement ceremonies were to be held in the men's gymnasium on the OSU campus. Dr. Howard F. Lowry, president of the College of Wooster, was listed to give the commencement address.

Letter To The Editor

The Circleville Herald encourages letters to the editor on pertinent subjects of local interest. However unsigned letters will be disregarded. Nom de plume will be used if requested.

Editor, The Herald:

The article that appeared in Wednesday's paper written by the sports reporter certainly expressed my sentiments in regards to the people of Circleville in their support of the basketball games!

Speaking as a parent of one high school student who participates at every game, I am ashamed of the support Circleville is giving the ball club this year!

The voters of Circleville have seen to it that the kids have a wonderful place for physical education and basketball. No longer do we have to sit in the drafty coliseum to see a game. A basketball game is a place to take the whole family—it is warm—comfortable—convenient—adequate rest rooms, refreshments available; but you say the games last too late. What kids, who are old enough to go to the games, don't stay up to see "LUCY"?

The team this year has great possibilities, and any team will work harder if the bleachers are packed and the home town is behind it with their attendance and support.

Kids can buy a ticket for 25 cents —IF they will support the cheering section, and what kid doesn't yell at the game?

Thanks to the writer of the article in Wednesday's paper for putting into print what I have felt about the way Circleville people, especially parents of those children who are participating, are supporting the basketball teams.

Come on! Parents, friends of Circleville Schools. Get Behind the teams! Let's fill that new gym and encourage the teams, both varsity and reserve, by attending the game Friday nite.

If the families of the boys and girls who are on the teams attend and bring someone with them we could almost overflow that thimble!

by Russia's latest note threatening to denounce the 1944 French-Soviet treaty if the French ratify the Paris accords to rearm West Germany.

All NATO's council meetings are closed, but NATO press officers were allowed to attend the unrestricted part of the session.

One press officer quoted Mendes-France as saying:

"They don't know the French people if they think they can modify French policy by threats."

The premier according to this account, described the latest Soviet note as an attempt to intimidate French public opinion and parliament, and thus to influence next week's ratification vote in the National Assembly.

He added that this will not modify in any way the determination of the French government to win ratification as rapidly as possible.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western democracies, traditionally keeping their military commanders under civil control, face a decision which may someday mean the difference between survival and destruction.

The foreign ministers of the 14 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, meet-two basic questions:

. If the Russians attack, with or without atomic weapons, should the military commanders of NATO have the right to order instant retaliation with atomic weapons?

When Russia and the West have filled their atomic arsenals, each will be a deterrent to the other's inclination to begin a war. But suppose one side made a sudden, surprise atomic attack of vast proportions.

It might win if it could knock out the other side's ability to retaliate. If Russia made such a surprise attack, the NATO Allies wouldn't have much time to make up their minds about retaliating, if they still could.

In case of such a Russian attack, the NATO commanders would almost have to have authority to repay Russia with atomic bombing without waiting for the civilian heads of NATO's government to get together and say "go ahead."

But suppose Russia, anxious to escape atomic reprisals but bent on aggression, made an attack somewhere without using nuclear weapons. What should the West do—begin an atomic attack on Russia?

If it did, Russia would certainly respond with an atomic attack of its own and the world would be in the atomic war it had dreaded.

Who then should make the decision on using atomic weapons against Russia if it committed aggression with or without atomic weapons? NATO's military commanders? Or the civilian heads of the NATO governments?

Secretary of State Dulles and the other 13 NATO ministers in Paris have to wrestle with that one, knowing how far-reaching may be the decision they finally work out.

In Paris, a U.S. spokesman said this country takes the position no sure-fire system can be set up in advance to determine how the big decision on use of atomic weapons can be made.

It would be the United States which had the great atomic arsenal for use if Russia did try an attack although NATO forces now are ready to be equipped with new "wonder weapons."

A surprise attack by Russia might, in the American view, wipe out any machinery set up by NATO to make the decision on retaliation. But the West Europeans live closer to Russian bombs than the United States.

And both the British and French want some say in a crisis. Some Europeans have expressed fear this country might be "trigger happy" in a touchy situation and they want in on any decision which might end in atomic war.

The British want NATO's military commanders to consult civilian government leaders before using a nuclear weapon. The French have suggested a Big Three "standing group" with power to act in an emergency.

Doctor Flunks Test That He Gave Drunk

HEREFORD, England (AP)—Police charged Charles Finlayson Hunter, 74, with drunken driving. To support their case in Magistrates Court yesterday, they submitted results of a handwriting test on the retired Army colonel and a doctor's certificate that Hunter was incapable of driving. The magistrates decided Hunter's writing was better than the doctor's. Case dismissed.

Naval Officer Aids In Rescue

WINNFIELD, La. (AP) — A naval officer home on leave and a miner went down 800 feet into a salt mine yesterday with portable oxygen equipment and brought up another miner just before their oxygen gave out.

The rescued man, Julius Smith, 40, was overcome by carbon dioxide fumes after an explosion and faced almost certain death. He was reported in "fairly good shape" at a hospital.

Lt. Billy Scroggins had been demonstrating new oxygen equipment to firemen when word of the blast reached him. He took the equipment—without which the rescue would have been impossible—to the mine and descended with Chester Camp.

Annual Bonus Booming Again This Yuletide

Announcements Roll In From Many Various Types Of Business

NEW YORK (AP)—The Christmas bonus — that noble business inchain is dividing up more than two nate workers — is booming this year. More firms are sharing the business pickup with their employes.

The Christmas office party, on the other hand, is in a recession. A number of firms have dropped that form of social mayhem. And some others have decided to have a company picnic next summer instead.

Bonus announcements are coming fast these days. Some store chains are distributing money to their employes across the country The Great Atlantic & Pacific food chain is divving up more than two million dollars. Grand Union is passing out one week's salary as a Christmas gift. J. C. Penney is giving two weeks' extra pay.

Wall Street is being extra generous this Yuletide. Employes of the New York Stock Exchange and of the American Stock Exchange are getting three weeks' salary.

Brokerage houses have been flourishing since the public started buying and selling stocks at the fastest clip in recent years. And, fat with commissions, the firms are handing out bonuses with a free hand — some paying out more than ever before in their history. Some lucky employes are getting up to five months' extra pay this Christmas. One big brokerage house is paying out one-fourth of its year's profits in gifts to its workers.

Some banks in this area are also remembering employes with a little of their institution's stock in trade. Money gifts are averaging around five per cent of the bank employe's yearly stipend.

Industrial corporations around the country are also being generous — especially those that the recession left untouched, or those who made their rejustment early.

It's quite a different picture from a year ago, when bonuses were shrinking even faster than the Federal reserve board's industrial production index. This Christmas the bonuses seemed to be based about as much on expectations of a good year ahead as on the pickup in business in recent weeks.

Christmas parties are another story. The office party still flourishes, of course. But the Employees Assn. of Chicago polled 260 corporations and reports that less than year. Some 40 that had parties last year are dropping them. Some are giving employes extra time off instead, or turning the firm's contribution to such a party over to charity. Some, however, are substituting a party for the children of their employes.

Nationwide, a survey of more than 1,000 companies by the National Foremen's Institute shows that four per cent fewer are holding parties this year. More than half won't have them. Eighty per cent, however, are giving either extra time off or extra pay for the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

And around half of them are handing out Christmas cash bonuses to their employes. Some who aren't handing out money are passing out merchandise, turkeys or hams.

The drift away from the office party apparently can be traced to that institution's tendency to breed unhappy aftermaths, as celebrated in cartoons and radio comedian's skits, as well as to the suspicion the party is linked to the rise in traffic accidents at this time of year.

Lazy Cows

USDA figures show milk production per cow has risen in past 10 years from average of 4,600 pounds to 5,400 pounds. Average and below-average producers fail to pay their own way and both federal and state dairy authorities recommend sending to slaughter any questionable producers.

Water Pollution Attack Planned

COLUMBUS (AP) — Stronger enforcement policies to back up Ohio's water pollution control law have been agreed upon by Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill and Dr. Ralph E. Dwork.

Dr. Dwork, chairman of the water pollution control board and director of the Ohio Department of Health said:

"Alibis and excuses in these cases are beginning to wear thin and members of the board are losing patience. The future will see a definite tightening of requirements by the board. It can be expected that more cases are going to be cited to the attorney general."

O'Neill said he would support the board with court action.

Chiropractor Case Ousted By Judge

BUCYRUS (AP) — Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll yesterday threw out indictments against three Crawford County chiropractors charged with practicing without licenses.

The judge upheld a motion by the chiropractors' lawyer stating Ohio statute does not define what chiropractic is.

Dr. Stephen S. Weaver and Dr. C. E. Butler, both of Bucyrus, and Dr. L. W. Thatcher of Galion were the chiropractors involved.

Charges were filed last August by Lawrence A. Dietrich, inspector for the state medical board.

Parimutuel Bets OKd By Tribunal

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has turned down the request of Charles P. Masterson of Cleveland for an injunction halting state-approved parimutuel betting on horse races.

Masterson named the state racing commission, state officials and operators of two tracks in the Cleveland area in his action.

His suit asserted parimutuel betting was in violation of the state constitution, which says that 'lotteries and the sale of lottery tickets, for any purpose, whatsoever, shall forever be prohibited in this state." But the high court ruled Masterson lacked legal capacity to sue the racing commission.

34 Men Added To Road Patrol

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Highway Patrol was within five men of its authorized strength of 650 uniformed officers yesterday with the announcement of the graduation of 34 students from the patrol's training school.

The men were assigned immediately after graduation, the culmination of 14 weeks training.

Williams County Probes Beating

BRYAN (AP)—Authorities in Williams County today were investigating the fatal beating of George G. Metcalf, 62, who died Wednesday in a Wauseon hospital.

Sheriff Howard Zuver said Metcalf suffered a broken nose, fractures of both jaws and face lacerations when severely beaten in a brawl outside a Montpelier tavern early Sunday.

At the time he refused hospitalization and did not appear seriously hurt.

Churchman Named

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Delegates to the semi-annual meeting of the departments of stewardship and benevolence of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America ended their three-day meeting yesterday at Wittenberg College with the election of Harl Russell of Elgin, Ill., president of both departments.

Glory to God in the Highest

ALL THE UNIVERSE IS CALLED UPON TO PRAISE JEHOVAH

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"GLORY TO GOD in the highest," not only on Sunday in church, but every day—when we rise in the morning, during the day, and at night when we go to rest. How many people never think of God and His goodness from Monday morning to Sunday, when they go to church and sing His praises with the rest of the congregation? Are you one of those?

In Psalm 148, all the universe is called upon to praise Jehovah. It was composed after the return from The Exile, possibly in the Fifth Century B.C. The word praise is the result of prizing, so our praising of God is our expression of prizing Him. If we realize God in our lives, we shall prize Him and thus praise Him. He is precious to us.

"Praise ye the Lord. Praise ye the Lord from the heavens; praise Him in the heights. Praise ye Him, all His angels; praise ye Him all His hosts. Praise ye Him, sun and moon; praise Him, all ye stars of light.

"Praise Him ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens. Let them praise the name of the Lord; for He commanded, and they were created."

Then the Psalmist calls on all the creations of nature to also praise the Lord, and finally human beings:

"Kings of the earth, and all people; princes, and all judges of the earth: Both young men and maidens; old men and children: Let them praise the name of the Lord; for His name alone is excellent; His glory is above the earth."

We are assigned two references to the birth of our Savior—one in Matthew and one in Luke. St. Luke's account is more elaborate than Matthew's, and he tells of the shepherds who were the first to be informed of the Child's birth by the angel of God. Matthew tells of the lordly wise men—the Magi—who came to visit the Babe and bring Him gifts.

Matthew begins. "Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise." He goes on to say that Joseph and Mary were espoused. She was going to have a child and an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, telling him the Child born to her would be holy and that they should call Him Jesus, as He would save His people from their sins.

The younger children might be asked if they have had a new baby at their house recently or if there has been one at a friend's home? Ask them to describe it if they have and tell of the happiness it brought to the home in which it came.

No matter how much joy is brought into any human home because of the birth of a darling infant, it cannot cause the joy that has been brought into the world by Jesus' birth. He is the only one that can "save us from our sins."

The birth of Jesus was prophesied by the Prophet Isaiah, when he said, "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call His name Emmanuel, which, being interpreted is God with us."

St. Luke's story of the shepherds guarding their flocks at night always gives me the greatest thrill: To these humble, unlearned men came the first message of the coming of our Lord:

"And there were in the same country, shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

"And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men."

Even in our skeptical and material world those words bring a feeling of hope and peace to us. We hear or read of the atom bomb, and fear enters our hearts, but when we read the words of "peace on earth goodwill toward men," we think that maybe wars and rumors of wars will surely end, and be replaced by goodwill and brotherhood.

The shepherds went to Bethlehem; they saw the Child and His lovely, gentle mother, and they came away telling everyone they met of Him and they praised God.

This Christmas is the most important birthday and holiday in all the world. Let us, too, praise God for it and put our trust in Him.

Glory to God in the Highest — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Psalm 148; Matthew 1:18-25; Luke 2:1-20.

"Praise ye the Lord, all His angels, all His hosts; kings of the earth and all princes and judges; both young men and maidens, old men and children; let them praise the name of the Lord."

Before the birth of Jesus, an angel appeared to Joseph, telling him that his wife would bear a son, and that they should name Him Jesus, for He would save His people from their sins.

A tax decree, to be paid by each man in his own city, sent Joseph of Nazareth and his wife, Mary, from their home in Nazareth to Bethlehem, for they were of the lineage of David.

Shepherds watching their flocks by night were frightened by a great light. An angel appeared, telling them not to fear for in Bethlehem a Savior was born.

"THOU SHALT NOT KILL"

ACTUAL NUMBER of persons murdered by the notorious Bender family, during the early days of Kansas history, has never been fully determined. Whatever the record may have been apparently it is surpassed by a "giggling grandmother," Nannie Doss.

Authorities say it is possible she murdered at least a dozen persons, using rat poison in every case. She has confessed to killing four of her five husbands, and would have done in the fifth if he had not become suspicious and walked out.

In addition to these four, authorities who are digging into her past believe she poisoned her parents, a mother-in-law, two sisters, two daughters and a step-grandson. If all these can be verified, Grandmother Doss will have hung up a record for murder which should stand a long time in the annals of crime.

Apparently the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," meant nothing to this creature. The Benders killed for loot. Mrs. Doss did not profit from any of her murders, according to her confession. Criminologists will have a hard time explaining her case.

A plea of insanity, if sustained, will permit her to go unpunished and society will care for her during the remainder of her life. In that case she will have nothing to fear but her own conscience. And that doesn't seem to be working.

LODGE'S EXPLANATION

HENRY CABOT LODGE, JR., this country's ambassador to the United Nations, has offered a belated explanation for the extremely high casualties suffered by the United States during the Korean war.

Presumably the war against communists was being waged by all of the 60 members of United Nations. Yet this country supplied 90 per cent of the non-native troops, and suffered 140,500 casualties, including 25,000 known dead and 13,200 missing, presumed dead.

Lodge declares that many other UN members offered to supply troops but were unable to arm them. The UN high command turned down these offers unless the nations involved could equip their own soldiers. As a result the United States was left practically alone in the fighting, with disastrous results just enumerated.

These and other facts have served to discount the efficiency of United Nations as a factor for peace. If a large majority of the members are unable to fight, regardless of how willing they may be to do so, the United Nations will never stop the threat of war.

Under Burmese law, a wife may become head of the household if the husband drinks too much. But then, after drinking too much, the husband probably doesn't care anyway.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Those university professors who make such a fuss about academic freedom often fail to grasp the essential fact that under our Constitution no citizen possesses more rights than any other citizen. What they seem to claim is that because a man teaches in a college, his freedoms are increased by his manner of earning his living.

The Constitution makes a specific provision for freedom of the press; yet this newspaper in which these words appear is not utterly free. It can be sued for libel; it can be deprived of the use of the mails if it publishes what the Post Office regards as a salacious article, say, the photograph of a completely nude woman; it can get itself into contempt of court if it flouts the obiter dicta of a judge. Senator Joe McCarthy was condemned, despite Senatorial privileges, for calling Senators unpleasant names but he remains uncondemned for speaking harshly to a General.

On this subject of freedom of expression, I came across the weekly bulletin of the Blessed Sacrament Church of Wichita, Kansas. It contains a charming recital of a great stupidity and I want to give it to you in full:

"An unknown painter, in the employ of the City of Wichita, passed by our school last spring as the school term ended. He touched up, with the painter's art, our 'Safety Sal' traffic signs. We do not know his identity nor did we see him at work.

"In his zeal he painted out the Thanks' on the reverse of the sign, and in its place he lettered 'God Bless You', which every Catholic knows is a prayer, that says 'Thank You', in a manner par excellence.

'When the janitor stored the signs in our school for the summer vacation, we noted the change and gave it our fervent approval. All summer long, when we passed 'Safety Sal' in the eighth grade room she said, 'God Bless You'. We returned the salutation: 'And you too, Safety Sal'.

"Then came Registration Day, August 30, 1954. The signs were marched into the heavy traffic of Douglas Ave., to remind drivers that they should slow up because school children were around. She gave out her salutation to each and every passer-by. 'God Bless You', she said. The very atmosphere of Douglas Ave. seemed changed by her cheery greeting.

"The Wichita Eagle, the Wichita Beacon and even the Hutchinson News, heard about it and made their comments. Hutchinson's Television Station mentioned it in the ten o'clock news one night.

'Then came the H Bomb. Mr. Rankin of the Department of Street Signs telephoned: 'You have changed the wording on your 'Safety Sal" signs. That must be corrected'. We assured him that we changed no such wording and that we had no intention of changing it now. It was not our fault and we did not do it. Furthermore it was done without our knowledge or consent. Mr. Rankin: 'It must be changed and I will do it in the morning'.

"We told him that we liked it better this way. Mr. Rankin: 'You must conform. The street is no place for those words anyway We will get complaints'. We asked why not wait for the complaints. Mr. Rankin: 'We must forestall complaints and you must conform. I will change it in the morning'.

DIET AND HEALTH

Don't Neglect an Ulcer

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A PEPTIC ulcer can do more than cause you discomfort and pain. If neglected, it can kill you.

If you know you have an ulcer and feel widespread severe tenderness over your abdomen, it's a pretty good indication that it is in danger of breaking through the stomach or bowel wall. If you have extreme, agonizing pain, it's likely the perforation or rupture has already occurred. In this case, your breathing becomes shallow, your pulse may increase, and your abdomen is hard and tender.

Profuse Bleeding

If there is a great deal of bleeding when the ulcer ruptures, you may feel faint, weak, dizzy and begin to sweat. You probably vomit blood, too.

After a short time, you'll develop symptoms of shock. Your temperature will increase, your blood pressure will drop, and your abdomen will become swollen. There will also be an increase in the number of white cells in the blood.

Well before these symptoms have developed, I hope you have summoned your doctor, because, in a case like this, an operation is necessary.

You must be kept absolutely quiet and given complete rest. Drugs can be taken to overcome restlessness and pain.

Feeding Continued

Feeding must be continued. In fact, your doctor will permit you to swallow as much as you desire, excluding, of course, everything barred by your diet.

If the ulcer is bleeding profusely, you'll need a blood transfusion. The doctor will also give you fluids and dextrose solutions through the veins.

Avoiding An Operation

By intelligently planning your diet, however, getting enough rest and keeping calm, you probably will never need an operation for your ulcer.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. L. K.: I have had piles for three years, and have a constant pain in the rectum. Is this serious?

Answer: As a rule, piles are not serious. It is advisable, however, that you have the condition corrected. Surgery is often required. Injection treatment may be satisfactory. Your physician will advise you as to the best treatment in your case.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt
Central Press Writer

Noted German zoologist says the African elephant, lion and gorilla face extinction. Looks like our zoo goers may have to patronize homegrown beasts, like the buffalo and grizzly bear.

The German animal expert says increase in human population is making the critters disappear. Tooth and talon are no match for a speeding motor car.

Survey shows the number of gorillas running around wild is down to less than 10,000. Come to think of it-is THAT bad?

We also hear the elephant population of the so-called Dark Continent has shrunk to approximately 200,000. However, we'd say that 200,000 big pachyderms would do the crowding instead of vice versa.

Meanwhile, as wild animals disappear the beard, says an item from Paris, threatens a comeback. Now there's a problem hard to face.

The Frenchmen, we read, are taking the lead in the renaissance of chin whiskers. Maybe, for once, 40 million Frenchmen CAN be wrong.

The French indicentally, never were great beard growers—specializing in the little dinky brushes called 'imperials." We have yet to see a picture of a Frenchman wearing face bush as glorious as that once proudly worn by John Greenleaf Whittier.

CHAPTER TWENTY

NOT a word of his technique or values or his background, had Enid mentioned of his painting of Cindy, yet Gary would rather have heard her say what she had. "You're amazing!" he explained.

She looked at him. "Why?"

"First—I didn't expect you to say anything like that. Aren't most girls a little jealous of a very pretty girl?"

She dropped down on a stool by the work table. "I never have envied pretty girls but I do envy anyone like you! You think something, at least in the special part of your mind, and then you pick up a brush and put it on canvas. You make it live! Writers do that, and composers, architects, engineers . . . But most of us—we think things and that's all. At least ones like me. I want to do something—just do something that's me!"

Gary said, "There's a pretty big choice these days, isn't there?"

Enid said soberly: "That's what I'm thinking about. I must decide on something that I can do. And I haven't any talent for anything. Whatever I decide I'll probably have to study or take some training for it."

He moved toward the stove. "What say we scramble up some lunch? Like spaghetti? I've a can of it with tomato sauce. Coffee in the pot."

Enid said: "Let me start the fire. I'm getting quite expert." She began at once to put kindling into the little stove. Gary liked that—nothing in her manner to indicate that she saw this as a romantic adventure.

They ate at a corner of Gary's work table. They did not talk much but Gary realized that the little silences that fell were comfortable, companionable. The rain closed in, in a pleasant way.

They washed their plates and cups. "I'd better go," said Enid.

"You'll come again?" asked Gary.

She was going to tell her mother. Gary was inordinately pleased at that. He said, a little drily: "It'd be all right if I were on the eligible list?"

Enid laughed. "It's wonderful to have you understand! And it isn't that I'm afraid to go against her. At least these last few weeks I'm not. It's—she is awfully unhappy, living there on the farm—especially so now. I can't upset her too much."

She put on her boots, the coat, the hood, went to the door. There she turned. "I will come again!"

"The next rainy day?" he asked.

She went out into the rain, down the path. He watched her until she disappeared among the trees. "Some girl!" he said aloud.

• • •

Jennie Todd walked in the rain that day. To the village, wearing a faded blue raincoat and rubbers and holding an umbrella over her head. She walked fast, as if she must hurry to do what she was going to do. As, indeed, she must before some courage she had found petered out in her.

She had bolted the door between herself and Hester again. Then, yesterday, Hester had come to her front door. Jennie opened it, not knowing who had knocked on it. Hester was smiling. She said: "I've brought a letter for you Jenn."

Jennie Todd took the letter, put it on the table.

"Read it, Jenn. It's from Miss Millhouse. And I'll wager you anything she's writing for you to get back on the job!"

Jennie picked up the letter, opened it. "Yes, she wants me to come back." Her voice was steady as she said it. She read the letter aloud. "If it isn't possible for you to come back by the first of August at the latest, it will be necessary for me to engage someone else in your position."

"I thought that was what she had written," said Hester. "I told you she'd need you!"

Jennie folded the letter.

"I'm not going back!" she said.

Hester stared at her. "Jenn, are you insane? You can't expect me to find you another job!"

"No, I don't expect you to."

"What will you do?"

"Stay here. I like it here."

"What will you live on?"

"I'll find some way of earning money. I've a little saved, and it doesn't cost much to live here."

Hester drew herself up straight. "Unfortunately, however, I can't dismiss a feeling of concern for you. I beg you not to answer Miss Millhouse's letter without giving it very serious thought — saner thought." With that she went out the front door.

Jennie sat down and wrote a letter to Miss Millhouse—a letter of resignation. Tomorrow she would walk to the village and mail it.

• • •

Reaching the village, she went directly to the post-office. The postmistress greeted her with a surprised laugh. "My goodness, Miss Todd, you out in this rain! It must be an important letter you have to mail."

"It is," said Jennie. "Anyway, I like to walk in the rain."

"Well, I do myself if I'm dressed for it. I'll see this goes on the 2:30. No mail come for you yet today. How's everything up at your farm?"

"Going very well," said Jennie.

"You really like it? I have a hankering to live in a city. I've got it in the back of my mind to quit this job. My husband had it and when he died I got appointed to it. But it's too confining—I don't like to be shut in. I'm going to just cut loose, go somewhere, maybe to Albany. If anything breaks for me, I'll stay there."

Jennie went out and found herself face to face with Wick Middleton, for the immediate instant unrecognizable in a shabby raincoat and old hat.

"Of all things!" he exclaimed. "Where were you heading for?"

"The restaurant," she said.

"No, you're not! You're going home with me—meet Net. She always has enough food for a half-dozen!"

"Oh, no!" said Jennie.

"Why not? You said you'd like to meet her and she wants to meet you." He put his hand under her elbow and turned her around. "I want you to see my library!"

She walked along with him.

Nettie's greeting was hearty. "I've wanted to meet you, Miss Todd. Take off those wet things. Wick, hang them in the shed. Sit down, Miss Todd, in this rocker, while I lay another place. Hope you like creamed chipped beef?"

"On Net's biscuits," said Wick from the shed door. "And you'll say afterwards that you never tasted anything like it!"

"Go along, Wick. Miss Todd, he flatters me just so that I'll keep on fattening him up!"

"The basket you sent up to Cindy—you were very kind," said Jennie.

" 'Twas nothing. I worried about the child—about all of you, with those stoves."

"We're managing very well," said Jennie. "Though we're not baking anything."

After lunch he suggested that they go into the living-room to see his books.

"Now, Wick, how do you know Jennie's interested," protested Nettie.

"But I am," said Jennie.

A pleasant, old-fashioned room with comfortable shabby chairs, tables, lamps, and his books on plain shelves against one wall. "Oh!" said Jennie eagerly, going to them.

"Mostly old titles—some were my father's, others I've bought here and there, second-hand. It's a weakness of mine. But they're good company."

"Yes," said Jennie, thinking of the old bookshop where she had been so happy.

When they went back to the kitchen Nettie was putting some glass jars into a small basket. "Currant jelly—I made it day before yesterday. I thought you and your sister and Cindy would like some of it—if you don't mind carrying it with you."

"Oh, thanks! No, I won't mind—I'm going to get that taxi man to drive me back. I have to get some supplies at the store. We'll enjoy it!"

Jennie said, as they went through the gate, "I like your cousin Nettie."

Wick looked pleased. "Run in often to see her. You go to the market now and I'll pick you up there and drive you home."

"No, no," said Jennie quickly.

Wick said: "I think I understand. I'll get hold of Ed Pauly. Tell him to stop for you."

He walked with her to the market, carrying the basket of jelly, the umbrella over her head. As they reached the store they saw Hester's big car drawn up by the curb across the street, Hester alone in it. They saw Hester give them one sweeping glance, then turn her head away as if she had not seen them.

Neil Morgan, San Diego columnist, is a neighbor of Ted ("Dr. Seuss") Greisel, distinguished author and helicopter authority. Whenever a youngster Neil knows celebrates a birthday, he presents him with a copy of Ted's "Scrambled Eggs Super."

One recipient's imagination was so fired by Geisel's text that he marched out to the kitchen and whipped up some scrambled eggs of his own. Known ingredients were four eggs, a box of stale marshmellows, a bowl of prunes, a bottle of cola, and a dash of about everything popable he could find in the icebox.

The concoction finished, the young chef marched straight over to Geisel's house with it, and presented it with a flourish. Ted, furthermore, was not the man to disappoint a youngster so obviously bent on doing him homage.

"This wonderful dish is too rich for my blood," said "Dr. Seuss." "We'll just save is as a treat for my publisher."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON — Congressional Democrats will give only feeble support to the Eisenhower-Humphrey attempt to balance the budget and thereby win a reputation as prudent managers of the nation's economy. The opposition, which will control both House and Senate, will be lavish in handing out federal funds to various groups of voters.

The Secretary of the Treasury now concedes that he cannot make both ends meet in this fiscal year, which winds up on June 30, and he sees little likelihood that he can lift the government out of the red in the fiscal period that closes on June 30, 1956. Thus, the Administration which had promised to improve on the Truman-Roosevelt spending record, will enter the 1956 presidential campaign with this pledge unfulfilled.

It will be a blow to the GOP's standing contention that businessmen can handle federal affairs and finances more wisely and efficiently than the politicians. Neither F.D.R. nor Harry S. Truman had enjoyed the experience or background that most of Ike's cabinet members brought to Washington.

* * *

FIGHT—The first money battle will be staged over possible deferment of the date when corporate and excise taxes are due to expire. These levies, which were imposed to help in financing the Korean "police action," will end automatically on April 1, unless they are continued by congressional act.

The corporation tax would fall from 52 to 47 per cent, and the extra taxes on liquor, cigarettes, gasoline, etc., would be removed. It is estimated that the loss to the Treasury will amount to about $2.3 billion annually. Such a heavy cut in revenue would result in 1955 and 1956 deficits ranging from $5 billion to $8 billion a year.

In view of Dulles-Stassen plans for increasing foreign aid to Asia it is expected that Eisenhower will ask that these taxes be retained, possibly permanently. With the exception of a few Southern conservatives, Ike need look for scant support from the Democrats.

* * *

MOVES—The Democrats will probably renew their bid for the mass vote by demanding a $100 increase in exemptions for taxpayers in the lower brackets. Even such a noted conservative as Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia favors this grant, agreeing with the more liberal Humphrey-Lehman faction that the 1954 reduction gave preferential treatment to the higher bracketeers.

The opposition will also make a play for the influential vote of the army of federal employes, especially postoffice workers. Eisenhower pocket-vetoed a higher salary bill last summer on the ground that it failed to provide additional revenue to finance the increases. He has said that he will approve a 5 per cent boost, but only if postal rates are raised to furnish the extra money.

* * *

BOOST—The Democrats will fight for a 7 or 10 per cent boost, with or without a provision for financing it. In their opinion, their congressional gains last month resulted largely from the so-called "federal vote," which resented Ike's veto.

Numerous measures restoring farm supports to 90 per cent have already been framed, and will be dropped into the legislative boxes on the opening day of the session, Jan. 5. The Democrats feel that they would have won larger majorities in both chambers in the recent election, if they had made a greater effort on behalf of the farmers during the last session.

* * *

DECISIVE BALLOT—The continued absence of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massashucetts emphasizes the importance of Sen. Wayne L. Morse's defection from the GOP. Without the ill Kennedy's presence, the lineup will be 47 Republicans and 47 Democrats, making the Oregonian's ballot decisive on organization of the Senate.

Incidentally, although Morse classifies himself as an "Independent," he is still registered as a Republican. He has not burned all his political bridges.

Mrs. Bernard Young Lauded By Pickaway Chapter Of DAR

Mrs. Carl Zehner Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Bernard Young of Circleville Route 1 was presented with an award of merit during a meeting of the Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. W. Emmerson Downing, hostess to the chapter in her home on E. Main St., introduced Mrs. Young, who received the special award from Mrs. Charles H. May in behalf of the chapter.

This honor was presented to Mrs. Young for her outstanding work with the youth of the community. She has been superintendent of her Sunday School for 25 years and had served as commissioner of Circleville and Pickaway County Girl Scouts for nine years. She now serves as Commissioner Emeritus for the Scouts, and also has been active in many community projects.

The session opened in ritualistic form with the pledge to the Flag, led by Mrs. R. Rae Bales, chaplain. Mrs. Rolland Featheringham accompanied the group for the singing of the National Anthem.

A note of appreciation was read by the secretary from Mrs. James P. Moffitt for cards sent to her by the members during her recent illness. Mrs. Bernice M. Hulse, teacher of the sixth grade of Williamsport, sent a note of thanks to the chapter for cards bearing the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the American Creed. More than 400 of these cards have been presented to the sixth grade pupils of the schools in Circleville and the county by the chapter.

Guests welcomed to the session were: Mrs. Young, Mrs. Carl Zehner, Miss Mary Ruth Tolbert, Miss Donna Mitchell and Miss Anne Adkins.

At the conclusion of the business session, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. W. L. Mack, program chairman, who presented Mrs. Martin Cromley and Mrs. Featheringham in a duet of a Christmas medley.

Mrs. Carl Zehner, wife of the pastor of the Lutheran church, gave a Christmas story, "The Little Mixer." Miss Donna Mitchell, accompanied by Miss Anne Adkins, sang, "Jeanette, Isabella", "What Child Is This?" and "Angels We Have Heard on High". Christmas carols, sung by the group, concluded the program.

Mrs. Martin Cromley presided at a tea table decorated in keeping with a Christmas theme. Mrs. Downing was assisted in dispensing hospitality by Mrs. C. T. Hott, Mrs. Bales, Mrs. Fred Brown, Miss Benadine Yates, Mrs. Paul Cromley, Mrs. J. L. Chilcote, Mrs. J. Wray Henry, Miss Ruth Montelius and Mrs. Harry Lewis.

Zoe Dell Riggin Wins County 4-H Baking Contest

Miss Zoe Dell Riggin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Riggin, of Williamsport Route 1 is the 1954 Pickaway County winner of a special baking contest sponsored by a food corporation. The contest has been approved as an activity for 4-H Clubs by the State Extension Service.

The award, a 24 piece baking set, was received by the County Extension office with a letter of recognition and congratulations from Frances Barton of the Consumer Service department of the company.

Miss Riggin, a member of the Jackson Jolly Stitchers and Jackson B.C.F. 4-H Clubs, carried ten different projects this past club year—two including baking experiences. By virtue of winning first place in the county for her Cake and Cookie project, she exhibited a cake at the Ohio State Fair.

Union Veterans Daughters Hold Annual Dinner

An annual 'Daughters Day" dinner, highlight of the year for members of the Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, was held in the banquet room of the Court and Main Restaurant.

A total of 15 members were present for the occasion, which opened with a turkey dinner served at one long table decorated with lighted red tapers and Christmas greenery. A decorated Christmas tree, under which the members placed packages for a gift exchange, added to the festivities.

Mrs. C. O. Kerns, program chairman for the event, led devotions. She was assisted by Mrs. W. E. Pickens, who read the Nativity according to St. Luke. Group singing of "Joy to the World," was followed by recitation of the "Lord's Prayer" in unison.

Mrs. E. L. Tolbert presented a reading, 'How Shall We Spend Christmas?", followed by 'Christmas at the Peters Farm" by Mrs. James Pearce. Mrs. James Trimmer gave a reading on Christmas Eve, and Mrs. H. G. Bausum offered, "Hang Up Baby's Stocking".

Mrs. B. M. Wignel presented a paper on where our various Christmas customs originated, stating that our most popular symbols of the Yuletide, the Christmas tree, the Yule log, and even Santa, are borrowed from peoples of other lands.

The legend of the Christmas tree was given by Mrs. Frank Webbe and Mrs. James Carpenter spoke on Christmas customs of Italy. "Carols are Sung in England," was the title of a reading offered by Mrs. E. A. Smith. Mrs. Pickens closed the program with a reading, "The Unusual and Outstanding Jesus."

Mrs. Kerns led the group in a Biblical contest, which was won by Mrs. Frank Rader, Mrs. Trimmer, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Cora Coffland.

Willing Workers Class Conducts Christmas Meet

The Willing Workers Class of the Pontius Evangelical United Brethren church enjoyed a Christmas program during a regular meeting held in the home of Mrs. Turney Kraft of Circleville Route 4.

Mrs. Forest Croman opened the meeting with a recipe for a 'Yuletide Pudding". Roll call was answered by 14 members and seven visitors were welcomed to the session. During the business meeting, the group voted to contribute $25 to the Otterbein Home at Lebanon.

Mrs. Jacob Glitt, incoming president, appointed her standing committees for the year as follows:

Mrs. Walter Richards, publicity; Mrs. Guy Stockman and Mrs. Ray Bowman, flower committee, and Mrs. Sterley Croman, Mrs. Floy Brobst and Mrs. Glitt, program committee.

Letters of appreciation were read from two shut-ins who had received gifts from the class members.

The Rev. and Mrs. Orla Bradford presented a devotional program. An inspirational reading by Henry Van Dyke was given by the Rev. Mr. Bradford, who also offered prayer at the conclusion of the meeting.

Highlights of a social hour were an exchange of gifts and seasonal refreshments, served by the hostess. Mrs. Brobst will serve as hostess to a January session of the class in her home on Circleville Route 4.

Mrs. Young Is Hostess To Twig Christmas Party

Mrs. Ernest Young of E. Main St. was hostess to members of the Circleville Home and Hospital Twig for an annual Christmas party.

During a short business meeting, the members voted to send jelly to the Main St. and Mound St. Home and Hospitals for Christmas, in addition to the usual activities for the patients.

Two visitors were welcomed to the session, which was attended by 12 members. A gift exchange was enjoyed as highlight of a social hour.

VFW, Auxiliary Host Veterans Christmas Fete

Packages of candy, oranges and cigarettes were presented to the veterans and refreshments of cookies and fruit punch were served. Dancing to the music of the Rhythmaires of Ashville was enjoyed by the entire group.

Blue Star Group Entertains Vets

Circleville Chapter 7 of the Blue Star Mothers entertained 70 patients of Building 2 of Chillicothe Veterans Hospital with a Christmas party.

Refreshments were served to the group and cigarettes and apples were provided for each of the patients. Magazines also were donated to the veterans library by the chapter members.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Mrs. John Ankrom, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. R. D. Good, Mrs. Ethridge Justus and Mrs. Harry Lane.

Always space place mats, silverware and glasses—when you are setting a table—as symetrically as possible. Silverware should be placed so that the bottom of each piece is an equal distance from the table edge.

Calvary Church Has Family Co-Op Supper, Yule Program

A total of 80 people enjoyed a carry-in supper which opened a family night Christmas program held by the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church.

The church annex was the setting for the supper and the program, which was presented by representatives of each of the Sunday School classes of the church.

Group singing of "Jingle Bells" opened the program and was followed by a recitation, "The Night Before Christmas" by Dickie Carothers of the Kindergarten Class. The Builders Class was represented by Margie Conrad and Maxine Stevens, who read Christmas poems.

Mrs. Talmer Wise was accompanied at the piano by Miss Minnie T. Wilkerson for her reading, "The Legend of the Skimpiest Tree." These ladies are members of the Dorcas Pathfinder Class.

The Story, "Whose Birthday Do We Celebrate" was read by Cary Shasteen of the Men's Class. From the Intermediate department, Miss Patty Young sang, "Silver Bells". She was accompanied by the Rev. J. B Recob. Mrs. Dwight Wilson of the Trailmakers Class gave a monologue, "Why Mothers Should Be Triplets".

A group of ladies from the Crusader Class sang, "Winter Wonderland" and "White Christmas". Seven youngsters from the Children's department enacted a manger scene while Butch Wilson sang, "Away In The Manger".

Using the same scene, Mrs. Andrew Goeller sang, "O Holy Night". Mrs. Minnie Lumpe told of the origin of the song, "Silent Night" after which several carols were sung by the group.

For the devotional part of the program a movie, "A Child of Bethlehem" was shown.

An automatic deep fryer was given to the Rev. and Mrs. Recob and son, Johnny, from the Sunday School and church as their Christmas present.

If water rings appear on your dining table here's a treatment you can try. Place a clean thick blotter over the ring and press with a warm (not hot) iron. Repeat until the rings disappear.

Hal Boyle Says:

Never Low-Rate An Enemy

NEW YORK (AP)—A nation that fails to remember in peace the lessons it learns in war runs the risk of sudden oblivion.

This would be a good time for every American soldier and civilian—and every schoolchild, too—to get a tablet and write in it 100 times the following sentence:

"I won't be afraid of the other guy, but I'll never underestimate him either.'

A decade ago Thursday the entire free world awoke to the value of this lesson with a shocked dismay. Thursday was the tenth anniversary of the foggy morning when Adolf Hitler sprung a German Pearl Harbor on the Allies by suddenly smashing through their lines in the Ardennes.

Looking back now, the frightening thing about the "Battle of the Bulge" is that the Germans achieved almost as complete a tactical surprise as the Japanese had three years before in their war-opening bombing of our bases in Hawaii.

The bitter lesson of Pearl Harbor ("never low-rate your enemy") had been almost forgotten, certainly by the people at home and probbaly even by some of the top brass.

Final victory seemed so near in Europe. The Nazis, suffering terrible attrition on every battlefront, appeared close to the crumbling point. Some politicians, businessmen, and triple-dome economic crystal gazers were already worrying about a possible postwar depression.

Then Hitler's legions struck, and his waves of Panzers crashed through the thin, stretched out U. S. line as if it were an eggshell. In 48 hours the American public no longer was concerned about postwar problems. It was praying for the men at the front.

It is only fair to those men at the front to say they never had quite shared the unrestrained optimism of the war area and home front. The doughboy in the foxhole is rarely given to unrestrained optimism. So long as even one enemy soldier with a rifle lies in wait on the hill before him, the doughboy must always regard the outcome of his next step as doubtful.

But even our most veteran battlefield troops were dazed by the might of the Nazi attack. And the Belgian people, who have the least reason to underestimate the strength of Germany, were numbed.

Where did the Germans manage to get all those troops and all those tanks?

No one knew. After the war it was learned Hitler had secretly been planning the counteroffensive for months, had drained other battlefronts to flesh it with muscle and steel and cover it with the Luftwaffe's wings.

The thing is: He had been able to do the unexpected. He didn't win the Battle of the Bulge; but he threw a mighty scare into the Allies. He left sad memories in many American homes, and would have left a lot more if the luck of the battlefield had gone more in his favor.

Remember how many people jeered at Hitler's bombastic promises he would unleash secret new weapons? He did come up with a few—the buzz bomb, the V-2 rocket, the jet plane. And he had more planned.

And so, remembering the morning Hitler delivered his surprise package, it is a good occasion to take up our pencils and write 100 times:

"I won't be afraid of the other guy, but I'll never underestimate him either."

It's something worth memorizing—this lesson that as a people we often forget so easily.

Bank Thug Caught In 15 Minutes

Ole Arseth, 49, Isabella, Minn., was captured in a chase organized by George Laplant, off-duty Buffalo police chief, who walked unarmed into the Oakley National Bank while the holdup was in progress. Laplant heard a whispered warning from cashier Harold Templin, raced to his police car, radioed the alarm and took off after the fleeing gunman.

Police Chief Dies

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Funeral services for Charles Berline, Niles police chief, will be held tomorrow in Niles. Berline, on the force since 1927 and chief since 1946, died Wednesday in a Warren hospital. He was 62.

BRITISH UN DELEGATE Anthony Nutting (above) has assumed proportions of an international figure with his public statement in the U. S. that if Communist China attacks Formosa, Britain will become involved because Britain is a member of the UN along with Nationalist China. The 34-year-old Nutting got a rap from British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for making the statement without prior official approval, but Eden later backed him against Reds' attack. (International)

Judges Wash Hands Of Kearns Case

COLUMBUS (AP)—Franklin County common pleas court judges yesterday permitted Prosecuting Atty. Frank H. Kearns to withdraw the resignation he submitted to them Dec. 3.

In a surprise move, the judges sent a notice to this effect to Kearns shortly before they were scheduled to meet to consider for the third time his withdrawal.

The notice told Kearns, however, that "the responsibility of staffing your office and of clearing the air is yours." The notice also said in part that "this concludes the entire matter as far as we judges are concerned. We are washing our hands of the whole situation."

Preacher Accused Of Leaving Wife

CINCINNATI (AP) — Domestic relations court has ruled that a minister was guilty of gross neglect of duty and of abandoning his wife without good cause.

Judge Charles W. Hoffman yesterday took away the Cincinnati property rights of the Rev. Leon L. Myers, 66, of Abilene, Tex., a Christian Church evangelist, and granted Mrs. Ada G. Myers, 69, alimony. She requested no divorce.

Mrs. Myers said the minister deserted her for another woman.

The Rev. Mr. Myers was a preacher in Eugene Ore.; Anaheim, Calif.; Dodge City, Kan.; and Atlanta before coming to Cincinnati in 1934. Here he was president of the Christian Restoration Assn.

Auto Driving Tests To Be By Appointment

The first step in revamping the examining procedure for issuing drivers' licenses over the state in order to offer better service to the public has been announced by Director U. C. Felty of the Department of Highway Safety.

Felty said a program calling for examinations by appointment was decided upon following conferences with Colonel George Mingle, superintendent of the State Patrol; C. Ervin Nofer, acting registrar of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, and Captain M. A. Mock, head of the driver examination of the Patrol.

The plan will first be placed into effect on January 2 in Franklin County only, Mock said. He said placing the program in effect in one county will give the driver examination section an "opportunity to smooth out the procedure before adopting it over the entire state."

Mock pointed out that the delay caused by large numbers of applicants coming into examination points at the same time resulted in the decision to give tests by appointment. He said the appointment system will make the work of the examiners more uniformed "instead of meaning that people will have to be turned away on some days while on other days the examiners are not busy."

* * *

MOCK ADVISED Franklin County residents that they must have a valid temporary permit before making an appointment. "Those who fail to keep an appointment will miss their turn and have to go to the end of the appointment list," he said. "This may mean a delay of several days before another appointment can be made."

He stressed the fact that the only way an examination will be given without an appointment is in the event someone fails to keep an appointment and an applicant without an appointment is waiting at the examination station.

Cirminello Quads Nicest, Noisiest Found Anywhere

HOLLIS, Y. (AP) — The Cirminello quads are 10 years old now, and four nicer, noisier, more normal youngsters you couldn't find anywhere.

Maureen, Eileen, Kathleen and Michael live with their parents, Joseph and Kathleen Cirminello, in a two-story gray stucco house in this pleasant residential community in Queens, Long Island.

Their life is bounded by Queens public school 134 five blocks away, the neighborhood Methodist church and evenings of homework, television and devoted parents.

To them the publicity surrounding their birth in a Philadelphia hospital Nov. 1, 1944, is apparently just as interesting as the adventures of Donald Duck, their only comic book — and not a bit more personal.

All are good looking, thin youngsters, with straight, dark brown hair and bright brown eyes. Michael has a spatter of freckles across his nose.

Shortly after 3 p.m., on any schoolday except Thursday, which is when the Girl Scouts and Cub Scouts meet, the blue front door bursts open and the four children clatter in.

Mrs. Cirminello, the former Kathleen Virginia Hatcher, of Okmulgee, Okla., is a pretty, dark-haired, placid woman who can be fond and objective at the same time.

"I have a headache all the time they're home," she says as a matter of unregretted fact. "So help me, it starts when they come home and it stops when they go to bed. They get rowdier and louder every year."

Joseph Cirminello is an accountant investigator with the Securities and Exchange Commission, He was working in Philadelphia with the commission and living in Upper Darby, Pa., when the quads, their only children, were born to his 30-year-old wife. They moved to Arlington, Va., in 1948, and here four years ago.

"Before they came," she recalls, 'I used to think two would be about the right number of children. But you get used to four. The doctor didn't want to worry me, so he told me I would have twins.'

Since the quads' weights at birth ranged from 2 pounds 14 ounces to 3½ pounds, their health has been a constant consideration.

"They've always been thin and wiry and with lots of stamina," Mrs. Cirminello says. 'The last day of every month I line them up and weigh and measure them. They weigh from 54 to 59 pounds, and Maureen, the tallest, is 54 inches. Kathleen was the smallest at birth and still is, but she's healthy.

Eileen wants to be a secretary, Maureen a nurse and Kathleen "a mother like Mama." Michael is all set to be a doctor, "because I think I can make a lot of friends that way. A surgeon."

For Christmas the only thing Mrs. Cirminello knows they want is another little green turtle. Their last one died not long ago and they miss him.

"You see, I don't think they're spoiled and one reason they're not is because they don't get a million things. There's usually only one of a thing and the four have to share it. Consequently, they appreciate what they get because they don't get too much. And I probably shouldn't say this in front of them, but noisy as they are, they're real nice kids."

Mother Is Freed In Mate-Slaying

Mrs. Conzeumius testified she had fired on her mate after he had sought to molest their oldest daughter, 13.

"When a father makes an attack on a daughter he is a trespasser in his own home, forfeits his right to be in the house and is subject to the consequences any trespasser might expect," Circuit Judge James R. Bandy said in his charge to jurors.

Cowboy Of Year Contender Jailed

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo (AP)— Austin (Buck) Rutherford, of Lenapah, Okla., who makes his living hanging on rodeo stock, spent yesterday hanging tinsel on a courthouse Christmas tree.

He is serving a 10-day jail term for speeding 100 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone, and Sheriff Norman Short said he made the cowboy a trusty.

Capital University Expansion Planned

COLUMBUS (AP) — An apartment building for married seminary students is among Capital University building projects approved by the board of regents.

The university said yesterday the board approved preliminary plans for the projects, to be built during the next four years. Final approval by the board is expected next June.

Included are the apartment building, a men's dormitory and additional facilities for the music, speech and fine arts departments.

"We went our way wondering about the mentality of people who would complain about a 'God Bless You', sign in front of a Catholic school and church.

"In the morning we were made to conform. 'Safety Sal' says, 'Thanks', in a detached and formal manner, when she might be saying 'God Bless You', to warm the hearts of the passers-by.

"The inspiration of the unknown and unsung painter, who really had a fine scene of the fitness of things, was buried in the blast of the H Bomb from the City Building.'

To this, one can only say, "God Bless You.'

This thought is particularly directed to Senator Mike Mansfield, a so-called Liberal, who would require former Army and Navy officers to conform to his way of thinking because they had once earned their livelihood in the employ of the Government of the United States.

Property Owners Scan State Rules

Property owners in Pickaway County are scanning with particular interest a newly adopted set of rules for the valuation of real property for taxation purposes.

The State Board of Tax Appeals recently set forth the compulsory 'yardstick", which goes into effect Jan. 1 for a six-year period. While the new rules must be followed by all of Ohio's 88 counties, they are of special concern to Pickaway County in view of a county wide reappraisal ordered in this district for next year.

Because of the growing interest in the state's new "yardstick' for appraisals, The Herald is listing some of the more important rules. Today's article is the second installment in this series.

Among the newly adopted regulations are:

RULE 106

ADOPTION AND USE OF PROPERTY RECORD OR APPRAISAL CARD OR SHEET—A property record card (appraisal card) should be adopted and used for each and every lot, tract or parcel of real property. The property record should be in either sheet or card form as determined by the county auditor.

All land, lots, tracts or parcels of land, and all buildings, structures and improvements to land shall be valued and appraised on the basis of January 1950 costs, less depreciation, and obsolescence, if any.

RULE 107

VALUATION OF AGRICULTURAL, SUBURBAN AND URBAN LOTS, LANDS, TRACTS OR PARCELS OF LANDS.

(A) Agricultural

All agricultural lands shall be appraised on the basis of their worth or value in January of the year 1950. Agricultural lands should be classified according to their characteristics and capabilities for use, based primarily on what they will produce under average conditions and typical management prevailing in the locality.

Assessors should obtain all information available relating to coil classification, land capabilities, land use maps, production records, price records and other information from the Ohio State University, Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service and other sources.

(B) Suburban

Suburban lands classified as resindential, commercial or industrial shall be priced and appraised in the same manner as similar lands are appraised in urban areas. and used for residential, commercial or industrial purposes, along roads in a rural district, shall be valued on unit value of so much per front foot, or so much per square foot, or in some cases of larger tracts, so much per acre.

Land used for agricultural purposes in the rear of such special use land shall be valued in the same manner as other farm land, unless it has a greater potential value due to plant expansion, creation of shopping centers, or allotment developments.

(C) Urban

Urban lands within municipalities shall be classified as commercial, industrial, residential, and in a few cases, agricultural. Practically all urban lands should be priced and appraised by either the front foot or square foot method. Establish the base unit price, street by street, and block by block, in all areas. Corrective factors, including percentages used in depth schedules,, corner and alley influences, shall be used when necessary.

The county auditor shall prepare, or have prepared under his supervision, land and unit price maps and price schedules that will be used in appraising all lands in his county. One set of all maps and schedules are to be on file in his office, open for public inspection, during regular office hours, and a duplicate set of all schedules to be filed with the division of County Affairs of the Board of Tax Appeals.

RULE 108

VALUATION OF BUILDINGS.

(A) General

All buildings, structures and improvements to land shall be valued and appraised on the basis of January 1950 costs, less depreciation, and obsolescence, if any.

It should be remembered that the object is to so value and appraise the land and buildings that when the two separate values for land and buildings are added together, the resulting value indicates the true value in money of the entire property in terms of January 1950 prices.

The county auditor is directed and ordered to prepare, or have prepared under his supervision, schedule of all building valuations that will be used in appraising buildings and improvements to land in his county. He should prepare separate schedules for residential, commercial, industrial and farm buildings based on the cost of labor and materials in his county for the month of January 1950.

(B) Residential

Each dwelling should be measured to determine the number of square feet or cubic feet it contains, and a sketch drawn on the property record card.

Residential building cost schedules shall include at least six grade of construction, ranging from very cheap to very expensive; namely, very cheap; cheap; ordinary or average; good; extra good or expensive; very expensive. Each grade should be identified by number or letter. All building costs should be based on prices of labor and materials prevailing in the area to be appraised as of January 1950.

Additional grading may be obtained by adding or deducting up to 20 percent for each grade by using a plus or minus sign, followed by the percent used.

The exterior and interior of each dwelling house should be inspected and graded according to quality of construction.

Plunge Kills Man

Child-Abductor Facing Sentence

CLEVELAND (AP) — Clarence Jones, 25, was convicted yesterday of child stealing and assault in the abduction of four-year-old Kenny Broyles. Judge Arthur H. Day delayed sentence until Jones undergoes mental tests.

If found sane, Jones can be sentenced to from 6-40 years in prison. The Broyles boy was lured into an auto near his home last May and dumped on a railroad track, seriously injured. He spent several weeks in a hospital.

Now Here's A GI Who Likes KP And Peeling Potatoes

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP)—There's no appeal like it—the appeal in peeling potatoes.

"It's relaxing," says Pfc. Robert F. Cordy, who can clean 11 spuds in one minute. After he took the speed test recently, his mess sergeant commented:

"Cordy is so good a peeler in the kitchen I'd like to have him on KP every day."

Cordy's prowess as a potato peeler won him recognition this week as KP of the year, a newly created honor for outstanding kitchen performers. He also got a three-day pass from this post but he can't wait to get back.

"It's always warm and clean in the kitchen," he says. "We have lots of coffee to drink, and you never hear of KPs marching, do you?"

The Louisville soldier's enlistment is up in July and he hopes to enter the restaurant business.

Stenographer Voted As Top Harness Horse

Trotting Filly Noses Out 2-Year-Old Scott Frost In Balloting

COLUMBUS — Stenographer, a rugged three-year-old trotting filly owned by Max Hempt of Mechanicsburg, Pa., has been voted Harness Horse of The Year by a panel of 97 turft writers, the U. S. Trotting Association announced today.

In the closest balloting in years, the daughter of Bill Gallon polled 464 votes to edge out the two-year-old trotting star Scott Frost who had 423. Scott Frost is owned by Sol Camp of Shafter, Calif.

Stenographer actually polled one less first place vote (22 as against 23) than Scott Frost but rolled up her victory margin on the strength of heavy support for second, third, fourth and fifth place. That the race was wide open was indicated by the fact that no fewer than 16 horses were accorded one or more first place votes.

Stenographer is the second of her sex an the first three-year-old filly to win the national honor. Proximity, as an aged trotting mare, was the winner in 1950.

Adios Boy was third, Kimberly Kid was fourth and Red Sails fifth.

Stenographer, trained and driven by Del Miller, won 23 of her 32 starts this year including 11 stakes victories. She won $65,137.39 and her two year earnings of $123,741 constitute a record for fillies.

The Pennsylvania champion holds eleven world's records, six of which were established this year. She is the champion three-year-old trotting filly off a 1:59.1 mile at Lexington, Ky., which was also the fastest of the season for age and gait.

On her Grand Circuit tour, Stenographer swept the board clean in the filly stakes and also won the $13,800 Reading Futurity in a field which included many of the top colts. She was the beaten favorite in the $106,000 Hambletonian Stake. Her principal victories were scored in the $19,000 Hanover Filly Stake and the $18,000 Coaching Oaks.

Scott Frost, who became the first two-year-old to go a mile in two minutes in a race when he connected in exactly that time at Lexington in October, won nine of his 16 starts, the last eight in a row and $33,733. He is the winter book favorite for next year's Hambletonian.

HORSE	POINTS
1. Stenographer (22)	464
2. Scott Frost (23)	423
3. Adios Boy (17)	280
4. Kimberly Kid (4)	261
5. Red Sails (4)	205
6. Katie Key (4)	137
7. Philip Scott (6)	114
8. Ados Harry (1)	104
9. Pronto Don (6)	99
10. Phantom Lady (2)	85

Niagara '5' Facing Test In Midwest

NEW YORK (AP)—Niagara University's Purple Eagles, rated No. 10 nationally in college basketball circles, headed into the Midwest today for a Saturday night date with Toledo, but it won't be until after Christmas that a definite line can be drawn on Coach Taps Gallagher's fine club.

The Eagles made it 5-1 for the young season last night by mauling Syracuse 99-74 at Niagara Falls, N. Y., and they have only the Toledo engagement before zooming into the Holiday Festival tournament starting Dec. 27 in Madison Square Garden.

That's the one Niagara is waiting for, because it possibly will afford the Eagles another crack at LaSalle, currently rated No. 1 in the AP poll. Last Saturday LaSalle's NCAA champions edged Niagara 76-75 in the final six seconds of an overtime period.

Center Ed Fleming again was Niagara's big man last night with 26 points. He played less than half the game as the Eagles rolled up a 54-31 halftime lead.

There was little action on the college courts last night. At the Garden, the Temple Owls proved they will be tough. They upset St. John's of Brooklyn 77-69. Temple, with a 5-1 record, has only a 70-65 defeat by North Carolina State marring its record.

Maurice Stokes, a classy 6-foot-6 pivot man, led St. Francis (Pa.) to an easy 88-59 victory in the other half of the Garden bill.

CHS Plays Host To Blue Lions For SCOL Tilt

Another jungle battle is in store Friday night as the Tigers of Circleville play host to the Blue Lions of Washington C. H.

The Friday night affair will be Circleville's first South Central Ohio League game. WCH lost its first league outing to Wilmington 64 to 45.

The Blue Lions come to the CHS home court with a season record of 3-2. They won their first two efforts by coming from behind. The WCH quintet topped Grandview 51 to 50 and eked out a 55 to 53 win at Bexley.

Then Xenia Central broke the jinx by downing the Fayette Coountains 57 to 54. Although behind, the Blue Lions almost closed the gap in a thrilling finish.

* * *

THEIR NEXT CONTEST was against Wilmington. Although the final score was 64 to 45, it must be said that the Hurricane are considered the strongest team in the SCOL.

Last Tuesday, WCH took on a team which CHS has also played—London. The Blue Lions proceded to drub London 54 to 43; London had defeated CHS earlier in the season 63 to 38, for those who use the crystal ball.

The Tigers have yet to come out on the winning end of a score. They lost to Athens, Chillicothe, London and Columbus Linden-McKinley.

However, there has been a marked improvement in the CHS play. Their last contest against Linden Tuesday night was an amazing effort. Linden's shortest man was not much smaller than CHS's tallest.

The Tigers looked good enough in defeat Tuesday night to bring out the comment that all they need is one win to be on their way. WCH looked so bad against Wilmington that there is more than just a spark of hope that CHS can win.

* * *

FRED BELLS, Roger Whitley and Ron Meyer seem to be the only consistent scorers for the Blue Lions. In the last three games, Whitley has 41 points, Bells 31 and Meyer 30.

Trojans Schedule Hard Scrimmage

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Trojans of Southern California will drive through an intensive "all out" scrimmage tomorrow at Bovard Field in preparation for their Rose Bowl game against Ohio State.

It will be an offensive drill, with the USC reserves using Ohio State defenses in an attempt to halt the Trojan ground and aerial game. Missing from the scrimmage will be right halfback Lindon Crow, whose right knee still bothers him.

The Trojans will emphasize defense next week and are laying plans to stop the rugged ground game of the Buckeyes.

Christmas SHOPPING

THERE'S SOMETHING about a platform rocker that you do not get in any other rocker — more ease and comfort. Just that old fashioned "take-it-easy" feeling. Give the man of the house a Platform Rocker, he will love it. Priced from $44.50 up at C. J. Schneider Furniture.

HOLLY FOR Christmas giving—housewives who love to entertain and what good housekeeper does not—will be thrilled with a gift of Fostoria glassware. One of the most beautiful of the many gorgeous ones is Holly so appropriate for Christmas giving — a young spritely design for modern living and equally good on traditional tables that cling to ancestral silver. All stemware, $2.15 each, plates from $2.00 at L. M. Butch Co.

SAMSONITE CARD tables, not only make delightful Christmas gifts but they are an addition to any home. They are so strong and sturdy they may be used in so many different ways. Excellent for serving lunches in the livingroom. See our selection of different colors with matching folding chairs, priced at $7.95 and $13.95 for the tables—chairs at $6.95. Griffith Floorcovering and Furniture, East Main St. at Lancaster Pike.

CONSIDER HER HEALTH this Christmas—give her a new Norge automatic clothes dryer for only $149.95—outperforms most other brands costing up to $75 more. Can be used on both 110 and 220 volts—plug it in anywhere. Come in — we will demonstrate why Norge's lower heat level and greater air power combined with gentle tumbling — dries clothes faster, more gently. A low down payment and easy terms may be arranged. Boyer's Hardware, 810 S. Court St.

LAMPS FOR her boudoir would be a gift of gifts for the debutante. Something to enhance the beauty of her surroundings. A pair of lamps for her dressing table or a reading lamp for the bedside—pin-up lamps for various places. $3.95 up at Mason Furniture.

BEFORE BUYING toys for the children see the scale model live action steel toys, nationally advertised — trucks, tractors, tournarockers haulers, road graders, cattle trailers, scrapers, motor express and many others — all scale models of their dads, faultlessly engineered. Made of strong heavy gauge steel, baked enamel finish, rubber tired metal wheels —these are gifts that children will love and enjoy for years—Harpster & Yost.

"ROUND-ABOUT' is the name of the Flex-Let watch band that would make a wonderful Christmas gift for any man on your list. It's the only watch band that is contour-engineered to blend with round watches. It has curved links and ends that are especially styled to follow curves of round watches. Enhances the style of any round watch. Rarely needs repair, never a repair charge. Stop in today and complete your Christmas shopping list. L. M. Butch Co.

GIVE HER MIRRORS — She will respond to your thoughtfulness on Christmas morning if her gift is a beautiful Mirror. We have plate glass mirrors to hang over the mantle, for the bedroom, diningroom, hall and in fact for any room in the house. Priced from $8.95 at C. J. Schneider Furniture.

CHRISTMAS IS A wonderful time to start the young lady's hope chest of Sterling silver. Select Towle Silver in one of these patterns—Silver Flutes, Candlelight Chippendale, Madeira, Old Lace and Rambler Rose. A 6 piece place setting of any of these patterns would cost $29.75. The setting would consist of teaspoon, knife, fork, butter spreader, cream soup spoon and salad fork. L. M. Butch Co.

YOUNGSTERS OF ALL ages enjoy music. Help them appreciate good music. Get an Admiral automatic radio-phonograph and select the records for them. In a mahogany cabinet 9 inches high that loads up to 14 records for $79.95 at Hoover Music Store.

GIVE DAD A Lantern—a Justrite electric lantern—handy for the home, farm, car or camp — wherever a powerful light is needed. Uses 4 flashlight batteries. Steel case $2.95 — a Delta flashing lantern at $6.75 at Harpster and Yost.

HE NEED NOT be in the service to enjoy a Military Watch. Because it is such an excellent buy and so good and durable an Elgin Military watch would make a wonderful Christmas gift for any man, young or old. These watches are shock-proof and water-proof and come in both yellow and white gold cases. Priced from $55 up at Horn's Gift Shop.

ONE WAY TO KEEP the man of the house home evenings is to get him a hobby. Everyone is interested in some particular work more than others so cater to that whim until it becomes a hobby. Hoover Music Co. has "what it takes" to do that very thing. Stop in to see the many and varied ways of keeping minds and fingers busy.

BRING YOUR Christmas list to the Pyrex Ware counter — here are to be found gifts for every woman on your list. A nest of 4 bright colored mixing bowls at $3.50; oven and refrigerator set 4 gaily colored dishes with clear glass covers, $3.25; a clear glass tea pot 6 qt. size $2.25; percolators in 4, 6, 9 cup sizes $2.75 to $3.95 and a double boiler, 1½ qt. size $3.95 at Harpster and Yost.

SAY MERRY CHRISTMAS to the home with a gift of Lovely Solid Cherry or Maple Furniture by Willett. Down in Old Kentucky where the South begins is built this exciting new and different furniture. You'll see what we mean when you glance at that roomy chest and delicately carved bedstead in enduring good taste and style and substantial too. Just right in any setting. You can collect this Wildwood Cherry or beautiful Maple piece by piece from open stock at your Willett dealer. Mason Furniture.

BUY YOUR Christmas Gifts now —pay later—give the family a new 1955 Motorola Television set —at the lowest prices ever — a 21" screen table model costs only $159.95. You pay only $10 down the balance may be paid in small payments arranged to your convenience. Make certain you give the best—Motorola from B. F. Goodrich Co.

MAKE FATHER'S GIFT a lounge chair and matching ottoman. Handsomely upholstered or covered with plastic as desired. Only $49.50 at Blue Furniture.

LAMPS MAKE wonderful Christmas gifts—For a short time we are offering a special of 2 table lamps for $5, regular $2.95 lamps that we are offering at this low price. Also our $3.95 lamps are being offered at 2 for $6.95 during this event. We have hundreds of lamps to choose from; prices range up to $39.95. Griffith Floorcovering and Furniture, East Main street at Lancaster Pike.

CHRISTMAS would not be Christmas to the youngsters if they were not plentifully supplied with candy. We have a complete line of Christmas candies—boxed and in bags for holiday parties. See us for school and office party supplies. Paul's Dairy Store.

MAKE THIS A White Christmas by giving a new International Harvester Freezer to the family. They come in both the upright and chest types. You will have to see this wonderful freezer to appreciate its unusual qualities. Drop in at Hill Implement where you may see both styles on display. Priced as low as $269.95.

Kiner Seen Asked To Take Larger Salary

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Kiner probably will be asked to sign a new 1955 contract with the Cleveland Indians when he and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick meet here Saturday.

Frick disclosed yesterday he was holding up approval of Kiner's contract in which the slugging outfielder volunteered to take a salary cut above the 25 per cent limit.

Kiner, who received a reported $65,000 with the Chicago Cubs last season, was traded to Cleveland last month. Figuring his poor season with the Cubs entitled him to no more than $40,000 for next year, he signed his new contract with the Indians Tuesday.

Reports persisted, however, that other players would disapprove such a procedure, figuring a dangerous precedent would be set.

In Pittsburgh, Kiner said he still didn't see anything wrong with the contract, but if Frick wanted him to sign a new contract, he would abide. The new contract presumably would be around $49,000 on the basis of a 25 per cent cut.

It took the game's hired hands a long time and a lot of sweat to push through the rule in 1947 which says their salaries could not be cut more than 25 per cent in a single year. Before that, it was not unusual for a player who had had a poor year, or one who had been traded to a second-division club, to find his pay slashed in half, or worse.

It is a rule very dear to the hearts of the men it was designed to protect against greedy owners.

Buckeyes Ready For Roses Jaunt

Browns Prove Local Talent Alone Produces Champions

CLEVELAND (AP)—Win or lose in the two upcoming games with the Detroit Lions — one non-important and the other all-important, the Cleveland Browns have proved you don't have to go far afield to gather a winning batch of football teaching talent.

Precision Paul with a record no mentor has ever matched through the high school, college, service and professional fields always has had the knack of surrounding himself with able assistants.

Many coaches reach over here for a line mentor, over there for an end tutor, somewhere else for other assistants.

But of the five men on the Browns' staff, four made their first bids for fame in Stark County, Ohio, three right in Massillon.

Brown, in a coaching career stretching from 1930 through last Sunday, has complied a record of 233 victories, 38 losses and 9 ties. As a pro he's won 103, lost 17 and tied 3 in championship play.

Back in 1932, when he took over the Massillon High School reins at his alma mater after a two-year 16-1-1 record at Severn Prep, one of his ends was 135-pound Fritz Heisler. At center was Howard Brinker. On the Canton McKinley coaching staff, Massillon's most revered foe only six miles away, was Paul Bixler.

Heisler and Brinker both went on to Miami U., where Brown had played as a 130-pound quarterback. After graduation both joined Brown on the Massillon coaching staff.

In 1941, when Brown — with a 58-1-1 record in his last 6 years—took over the Ohio State job, Heisler went along. Brinker moved to Steubenville. Both went into the service, Heisler coming back to join Brown with the professionals, and Brinker going to Ohio U. with Carroll Widdoes, who earlier had followed Brown from Massillon to Ohio State. Widdoes took over as head coach of the Bucks when Paul entered the Navy and coached Great Lakes.

Bixler, after the Canton McKinley job, went along with Jimmy Aiken to Akron U., later became a Brown assistant at Ohio State, and became head coach there as Widdoes stepped down voluntarily.

And there you have the heart of the Browns coaching staff — those four old friends and playmates, Brown, Heisler, Brinker and Bixler.

But it doesn't end there. The fifth man is Ed Ulinski. Big Ed was an outstanding guard with the Browns through the four years—1946-49—when they swept through four straight All - American Conference seasons, winning 52 games, losing 1 and tying 3.

The former Marshall star took time out to become an assistant at Santa Clara and Purdue, after the 1949 season, but Paul called him back into the fold this year to complete the quintet which has coached the Cleveland club to its ninth straight division championship and its fifth straight in the National League, a feat no other pro club ever accomplished.

Brown also reached into his past for key players on the club. Tommy James, the great defensive halfback, and Horace Gillom, the league's top punter, played for Paul at Massillon. Lou Groza, the placekicker, and Dante Lavelli, the pass-snatching end, were at Ohio State when Brown was there.

Illinois Again Making Fools Of Guessperts

The Illini gridders this season were ranked near the top nationally in all pre-season reckonings. They won one, lost eight.

The Illinois cagers entered this season with a so-so tag, yet Saturday night will be seeking to stretch an unbeaten skein to five against invading Notre Dame. Only Illinois and Ohio State are undefeated in the Big Ten non-loop play, preliminary to the start of the league race next month.

Currently third - ranked in the weekly Associated Press poll, the Illini have bowled over Butler 88-34, Missouri 77-49, Oklahoma A&M 59-53 and Miami 97-72.

While the Illini are trying to make it 5 against a good Notre Dame team, Saturday's nationally televised Big Ten game will find Northwestern entertaining Tulane over CBS at 3 p. m. EST.

The Big Ten's only other unbeaten team beside Illinois, Ohio State (3-0), Saturday plays at the university of Oklahoma. Other Saturday games include Indiana at Cincinnati; Michigan State at Penn; Michigan at Washington of St. Louis; Iowa at Princeton; Minnesota at Oklahoma A & M; Purdue at Butler; and Louisiana State at Wisconsin.

Langlois Aide Loses Round In Olson Test

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The final round in Carl (Bobo) Olson's successful defense of his middleweight crown against Pierre Langlois of France has been decided against Langlois' agent, George Kanter.

Chairman Tony Entenza of the California Athletic Commission late yesterday rejected Kanter's contention the 15-round title fight, ending in a TKO of Langlois in the 11th Wednesday night, should be declared a draw.

He imposed a two-week suspension on Kanter and demanded a written apology from the New York agent because of the latter's charges the fight was stopped as a result of Langlois being butted so badly the Frenchman's eyelid was split open.

Californias new "butt rule" reads that if a fighter is leading on points when a fight is stopped because of an injury caused by butting, he receives the decision; if he is trailing on points and butting causes an end to the fight he gets a draw.

The referee stopped the Olson-Langlois fight in 58 seconds of the 11th round because of a deep gash over Pierre's left eyelid. Don Shields, former fight commission inspector, said movies showed Olson opened the cut with a long right hand punch in the sixth round.

Baker Victory May Mean Little

NEW YORK (AP)—If Bob Baker, a 1-3 favorite, disposes of Coley Wallace tonight, the giant Pittsburgh Negro may find himself all dressed up with no place to go.

Baker, like all heavyweights, has his eye on a shot at Rocky Marciano's title, but he'll have to take his place at the end of the line.

Don Cokell, the British boxer, is a good bet to get the June match with Marciano, when and if Rocky decides to go back to work. Nino Valdes, the big Cuban who knocked out Hurricane Tommy Jackson, is No. 1 in most ratings. Cockell and Valdes look like the next two opponents for Rocky with both fighting to be first.

Seixas, Trabert In Challenge Round

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert sent the United States into the Davis Cup Challenge Round again today with a 6-3, 6-4, 6-3 doubles victory over Sweden's Lennart Bergelin and Sven Davidson.

The triumph made the Yanks' margin in the best-of-five event 3-0 and makes tomorrow's two final singles matches mere formalities. In fact, nonplaying captain Billy Talbert said he would rest Seixas and send national intercollegiate champion Hamilton Richardson of Tulane into the fray against Davidson. Trabert will play Bergelin.

Columbus May Bid For Ottawa Team

COLUMBUS (AP)—Left without a professional baseball team when the Red Birds franchise was shifted to Omaha, Columbus may bid for the Ottawa franchise of the International League.

Columbus is competing with a Florida combine which also would like to buy the franchise. Reported price is $50,000. Ottawa also would like to keep the franchise despite its poor financial showing.

JURY PONDERING SHEPPARD CASE

Free World Leaders Agree On A-Policy

Ministers Decide Who To Trigger Bomb, But Stall Announcement

PARIS (AP)—Leaders of the free world today adopted a new defense strategy based on atomic firepower and agreed on the way new weapons can be used in the event of an attack by Communists.

The foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 14 North Atlantic Treaty powers set the role of atomic weapons during a tightly closed session. They promised a communique on their decision later today or tomorrow.

After adoption of defense plans drafted by the chiefs of staff of NATO members, giving nuclear firepower a place in NATO's "new look" arsenal, the ministers excluded most of their advisers from the closed meeting. Then they took up the controversial question of who can decide on a resort to atomic arms—military men or their governments.

No immediate word on this discussion leaked out, and NATO officials would say only that the ministers had reached

Dixon-Yates Project Seen Being Stalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The timetable of a Securities and Exchange Commission hearing appeared certain today to give the new Congress a chance to revise or kill the controversial Dixon-Yates private power contract before construction work is started.

A company official has said little actual work will be done before the SEC approves financing arrangements, and SEC Chairman Ralph H. Demmler indicated yesterday a decision on initial phases was unlikely before Feb. 1.

The new Congress convenes Jan. 5 under control of Democrats, some of whom have been sharply critical of the Eisenhower administration's plan to purchase private power for use in the Tennessee Valley Authority system.

Dixon-Yates has concluded a 25-year contract with AEC for furnishing the TVA with some of the additional power it may supply atom plants in the future. The utility group proposes building a $107 million plant at West Memphis, Ark.

The SEC is considering plans for the group to invest $5½ million in the newly created Mississippi Valley Generating Co., formed to handle the project.

On this phase, Chairman Demmler announced yesterday, the commission will close hearings Dec. 23 and will give opposing lawyers until Jan. 18 to file all additional legal arguments. Demmler has said the commission may reach a decision two weeks after that.

Red Chief Invites U. N. Aide For Talks About U. S. Fliers

LONDON (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai said today he will receive U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in Peiping, but left in doubt just how far he will go in discussing the 11 imprisoned American airmen.

Chou sent two communications to the United Nations. One denounced again the U. N. resolution of Dec. 10 which instructed Hammarskjold to seek release of the imprisoned airmen. The other contained acceptance of Hammarskjold's proposal for a meeting with Chou.

The second communication, as broadcast from Peiping, said:

"Regarding the United States spies mentioned in your cable, our position has been set forth in my other able addressed to you.

"In the interests of peace and relaxation of international tension, I am prepared to receive you in our capital Peiping to discuss with you pertinent questions."

This seemed to say Red China had settled the case of the fliers, but was ready to talk about other things. These latter might include the question of seating Red China in the United Nations, a question the U. N. General Assembly at its opening session this year decided to shelve for the remainder of the ...ear.

... the message preceding his ...tance Cable, Chou said the United States had connived at the "forcible retention" of more than 27,000 North Korran and Chinese Communist prisoners.

This was a reference to Red troops captured in Korea who refused repatriation back to Communist territory and were released in South Korea by the U. N. Allies.

"If one speaks of the question of prisoners of war in Korea, it is the United States . . . which has violated the Korean armistice agreement," Chou said.

Red China stands as a convicted aggressor before the U.N. because of its action in the Korean War, and also stands condemned for its action in holding the fliers.

Nevertheless, Hammarskjold was instructed by the General Assembly to see what he could do about releasing the Americans, and he decided to make a trip to Peiping if Red China would invite him.

He now has the invitation. There is some doubt whether he would be willing to discuss with Peiping any questions not covered in his original request—that is, the flier case. But obviously if he goes to Peiping, as he undoubtedly will, he would accept any communication the Red China regime desired to send to the United Nations.

It was expected, however, that he would go ahead with preious plans to fly to Sweden tonight for the weekend and, after returning here briefly next week, would fly on to Peiping.

Hammarskjold had planned his trip to Sweden originally for ceremonies installing him in his late father's seat in the Swedish Academy of Letters. Yesterday it became known he planned also to see the Red Chinese ambassador in Stockholm about his proposed trip to Peiping, and it was expected he now would discuss arrangements for the trip with the envoy.

Jets Salute First Flight By Airplane

KILL DEVIL HILLS, N. C. (AP)—Fifteen Air Force jets will flash over beaches here at 500 miles per hour today, 51 years later to the day that the Wright brothers flew their first plane 31 miles per hour over the same sand dunes.

The jets, F84F Thunderstreaks from Langley Air Force Base, Va., are participating in ceremonies at the Wright Brothers National Monument commemorating the first powered flight of a heavier-than-air machine Dec. 17, 1903.

It was then that Orville and Wilbur Wright, from Dayton, Ohio, flew their plane here.

Aero clubs, flying groups and the air-minded public generally scheduled meetings to celebrate the first powered flight.

The major celebration—actually, a series of aviation meetings—is occurring in Washington, D. C. But the most colorful, sentimental and memory-tinged gathering is around the gaunt, severely simple hilltop memorial to the famous first flight near Kitty Hawk, N. C.

Topping the Washington events was the award by President Eisenhower, at the White House of the Collier Trophy for "outstanding achievement in aviation" to two famed plane builders. They are J. H. (Dutch) Kindelberger, president of North American Aviation, Inc., Los Angeles, and E. H. Heinmann, chief engineer of Douglas Aircraft Co., Santa Monica, Calif., honored for developing the first supersonic fighter planes.

Fayette County Sheriff's Wife Makes Arrest

WASHINGTON C. H. (AP)—Seldom does Mrs. Lulu Hays, chief deputy sheriff of Fayette County, have an opportunity to make an arrest. She takes care of the office for her husband, Sheriff Orland Hays.

But yesterday, Mrs. Hays had just finished typing descriptions of two men wanted for a Waterloo, Iowa, burglary when a man walked into her office.

She looked the man over, and then said: "Your name Johnson?"

"Yes," replied the visitor who had gone to the jail to leave cigarets for a friend held there.

"Then you're under arrest," said Mrs. Hays.

Paul Johnson, 28, of Fayette County, was held for Iowa authorities. Later deputies took into custody Hank Evans, 30, and also held him for Waterloo police. The deputies said they recovered some musical instruments and a rifle reported stolen in Waterloo.

Mrs. Hays explained she had just received descriptions of two men from city police who in turn had been notified by Iowa authorities.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Will Be Here Saturday

Final arrangements have been made for the year's last visit of the mobile x-ray unit, a widely commended service made possible by the sale of Christmas Seals.

The unit will be at Court and Main streets in Circleville Saturday, offering free chest x-rays, for a one-day visit.

For those who desire the chest examinations, hours of the mobile unit have been announced as follows:

From 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m., and from 7 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

* * *

CITY AND county health officials have warned all workers in food-serving places that they are required, by state law, to have an ... examination made when one is available free of charge.

The x-ray unit is one of the outstanding services provided through the Pickaway County Tuberculosis and Health Association. The association is guiding the local Easter Seal campaign, aimed this year at a goal of $4,750 in this district.

Those who have yet to contribute to the seal campaign have been urged to send their donations without further delay.

Some Rain, Snow Seen In Midwest

CHICAGO (AP)—Snow or rain fell over sections of the midcontinent today but generally fair weather prevailed in other parts of the country.

A wide band of snow or rain extended from Minnesota and Wisconsin southward to east Texas. Snow in the Chicago area was light, measuring about one half inch. But Des Moines reported 2 inches, with snow continuing.

Engineer Strike Lasts 7 Hours

CINCINNATI (AP)—A flash strike of 50 locomotive engineers and 200 other Southern Railway trainmen, ended this morning at 5 a. m., seven hours after it began.

The dispute was over company refusal to use an engineer without justification, pickets of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Union (independent) said.

Pope Remains Gravely Ill And Weak

That was the report today on his over-all general condition from Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi. The pontiff's private physician's statement confirmed previous word from Vatican sources that despite optimistic reports following X-ray examinations yesterday the pope's condition remains serious.

The substitute Vatican secretary of state, Msgr. Angelo Dell'Acqua, said today the pope showed signs of "great fatigue" because of the long examination but was "better than yesterday."

The pope's ailment, diagnosed after the X-rays yesterday as a small hernia of the esophagus and gastritis, also is accompanied by hemorrhaging resulting in a slow loss of blood. This, it was said, is partly responsible for the weakened condition and anemia of the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church.

The pope was reported to have passed a "rather agitated" night last night, his sleep interrupted by hiccup attacks. Dr. Galeazzi-Lisi spent the night at his bedside or in an adjoining chamber, as he has done for nearly a month.

The tests yesterday set at rest fears the pontiff had an ulcer and might need immediate surgery. Dr. Galeazzi-Lisi said the course of treatment now will aim to increase his strength.

Russian Bear May Resume Growling Soon

Another Period Of Hard Attitudes Seen Coming From Red Headquarters

Such a switch would not necessarily reduce the chances which now appear to exist for improving basic contacts between Moscow and the rest of the world.

It would tend to increase tensions a little and to show more clearly the essentially antagonistic nature of Communist policy toward non-Communist nations.

These views are held by responsible Washington officials, some of them highly placed. The views are speculative. They are based on several considerations, including:

1. An assumption that Russia's plugging of "peaceful coexistence" during the last year has been aimed primarily at lulling West European countries into relaxation and thereby blocking the rearmament of West Germany.

2. The reasonable certainty that, despite Russia's efforts, both France and Germany will ratify the pending agreements under which West Germany would be armed and made a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The treaties last night passed a first reading in West Germany's lower house of parliament.

* * *

3. A BELIEF that some degree of hostility toward the outside world is necessary to justify to people under any Red dictatorship the burdens and restraints imposed on them.

Final European action on ratification of the various agreements on Germany is expected early next year. After that there may be a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting.

Utility Rate Law Report Readied

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Legislative Service Commsision has voted to give the incoming Legislature a subcommittee report on Ohio utility-rate laws, minus recommendations.

The commission rejected a proposal to be recorded favoring correction "by appropriate legislation" of the present Ohio public utility rate base formula.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who has advocated a "fair value" formula, said Wednesday it was "shocking and disappointing" to him that the subcommittee did not propose change in the rate base method.

Southern Railway Engineers Strike

CINCINNATI (AP) — Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers were on strike today against the Southern Railway.

Pickets said the company had refused to use an engineer without cause or justification.

The walkout of the 40 engineers at the Cincinnati division occurred at 11 p. m. yesterday. J. T. Moon, general manager, said the railroad was caught totally unaware.

The Southern's routes run from Cincinnati to Lexington, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Jancksonville.

THERE SEEMS to be a slight lack of participation here as the "Angel Choir" of the New York Children's Aid society rehearses. Bubble gum culprit is Milan Belor, 5.

World Won't End Tuesday, But Trouble Due, Prof Says

CHICAGO (AP)—A jobless college doctor predicts the world will be racked with terrible trouble next Tuesday but says he never said it would be the end of the world.

Violent upheavals in the form of disastrous life-engulfing tidal waves will strike down man near Lake Michigan and on the east-Charles Laughead, who until Wednesday was a staff doctor at Michigan State College.

The doctor claims a contact with "outer space" and says communications indicate catastrophic events for the world.

These views led to Laughead's departure from MSC, in the form of a resignation which he said was demanded.

The president of the college, Dr. John A. Hannah, said the college had no objection to Laughead's beliefs but objected to the doctor's "propagandizing" students "on a peculiar set of beliefs of questionable validity."

* * *

LAUGHEAD SAID he was asked to resign and said he assumed it was because of his "hobby" which is "flying saucers and other matters having to d owith outer space.

The doctor said the persons with whom he is in contact receive their communications by various means, some as a spiritual medium would by code tappings, some through voices and others "through actual contact with men in flying saucers."

"I know two fellows in Detroit who were picked up and given rides in flying saucers," he said.

He said such geological phenomena have occurred many times before in the history of the earth. He cited such examples as volcanic eruptions burying cities, mountains arising from the earth's crust, and islands emerging from oceans.

Several persons were in Mrs. Dorothy Martin's home during the interview, including a schoolteacher, a man in his 30s and a youth who would only give his name as "Paul."

Mrs. Martin described how she received her communications from outer space.

"My arm feels warm," she said. 'It's hard to explain, but I just put a pencil to paper and write."

* * *

HER FIRST communication, she said, was simply an introduction to a superior being who said he was "Elder Brother from Venus."

She, too, believes the flying saucers are playing a vital part in the communications, but she said, "don't call them by that vulgar term, say 'discs.' "

Mrs. Martin also was vague about her plans, saying only, "we are awaiting further word."

Mrs. Martin said her communicators have been telling her the cause of the cataclysms will be "fault lines" in the earth's crust.

She said the upheaval will form a sea covering the central part of North America and the west coast will be submerged.

Dr. Laughead said he did not plan to go to a mountain top in Vermont to be picked up by people in vehicles from outer space, as reported, because "they will make their own selections in their own way."

5 Possible Verdicts Face Accused Medic

7-Man, 5-Woman Panel Starts Deliberations At 10:13 a.m. Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—A jury in common pleas court today began deiberating the fate of Dr. Sam Sheppard, the 30-year-old osteopath who is charged with bludgeoning to death his wife, Marilyn, 31.

The jury received the case at 10:13 a. m., EST.

Judge Edward Blythin delivered a 36-minute charge to the jury in which he gave them five possible verdicts in the charge of murder.

The five possible verdicts are:

1. Guilty of first-degree murder without recommendation of mercy, which carries a mandatory death sentence.

2. Guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy; the penalty in this decision is mandatory life imprisonment.

3. Guilty of second-degree murder, which carries a life prison sentence with possibility of parole in 10 years.

4. Guilty of manslaughter, carrying a penalty of one to 20 years.

5. Acquittal.

* * *

JUDGE BLYTHIN told the seven men and five women deliberating the case that they should not recommend mercy out of sympathy or to evade an unpleasant duty.

In a lengthy explanation of the law, the judge told the jurors it is not necessary to prove motive under Ohio law. And he explained that circumstantial evidence must be carefully considered.

Most of the jurors are middle aged, but two of the men are not yet 30. Sheppard will be 31 Dec. 29.

Four of the five women on the jury have children. Mrs. Ann W. Foote, dark, pretty and alert in manner, is the mother of five. Mrs. Luella Williams has four grown children. Sheppard's son Chip is now 7.

Ike To Light Big Yule Tree In Ceremony

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower lights Washington's community Christmas tree at dusk today as a beacon heralding throughout the world the holiday message of "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

The President planned a six-minute address over major radio and TV networks, scheduled for about 5:15 p. m. EST.

The ceremonies opened the national capital's first Pageant of Peace, a three-week celebration in which representatives of 30 nations will participate in religious and holiday observances.

In advance, the President arranged to receive at the White House the children of six United Nations employes from India, Ecquador, Canada, France, the Philippines and the United States.

Furthering the international theme, U. S. embassies and military posts abroad will light their own Christmas peace programs in coordination with the White House ceremony.

The Washington observance centered around a 65-foot Michigan fir erected on the Ellipse, a park adjoining the White House grounds. At its edge a speakers' stand was ready for the President.

The flat grounds of the Ellipse have been transformed into a child's paradise, complete with live reindeer, numerous small Christmas Trees from the participating nations, a life-size nativity scene and Christmas carol chimes.

Fake Charity Deal Broken Near Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP)—A fake charity racket in which donors were told they were giving money to support sports at schools has been uncovered in suburban Reading.

Fred Trauth, 27, of Newport, Ky., yesterday accepted a $5 contribution for the non-existent "Juvenile Basketball Assn. at Reading School," police said.

He was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses and released under $250 bond.

General To Have Chat With Private About GI's Attitude On American Flag

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — Pvt. Bruce A. Wallace, studious but boyish looking at 24, has a date with his general today to explain how he feels about the flag.

Brig. Gen. John R. Burns is studying still another explanation Pvt. Wallace made under oath last week.

Gen. Burns said he would decide, after talking to the young mechanical engineer, whether to order him tried by a court-martial or let it go at a strong reprimand.

Wallace, from Ridgewood, N.J., declined to say another word until he sees the general, a fellow alumnus from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"I do not respect the flag and I did not feel it necessary for me to render proper respect to the flag at retreat if I am not in formation.

"My being in the Army has lessened my respect for the country. I feel that my service is unnecessary and a waste of time. I classify the flag as a symbol not requiring respect according to my religions."

The soldier's father Dwight Wallace said later his son was only "woolgathering" when he should have been saluting.

In his sworn statement of Dec. 6, Wallace denied he had said his Army service lessened his respect for the country and was unnecessary.

"As long as I was drafted I felt the duty to serve when called," he said. "I saw the Army as a practical necessity.

"To me the flag is a symbol and I feel my beliefs in 'the American way of life' directly. And I feel so with or without a flag.

"I respect the flag as I would a crucifix."

Wallace said his training in the Presbyterian and Unitarian churches discouraged respect for symbols.

Legal experts at 2nd Army headquarters at Ft. Meade advised Gen. Burns there was no case against Wallace for failure to salute, since "he actually intended no disloyalty or disaffection among the troops."

They suggested he might be tried by a special court-martial on a charge of actions "prejudicial to the good order and discipline of the armed forces" because of the "real feelings" he expressed to his lieutenant. Conviction could carry a sentence of confinement for three to six months with loss of pay.

The 2nd Army also suggested it could be handled by some "lesser action," like "company punishment." It usually means a reprimand and restriction to the post for a week or so.

Russian Bear May Resume Growling Soon

French Premier Mendes-France has suggested one for May.

Last August, the French Assembly killed the European Defense Community plan to rearm West Germany. It was a great victory for the Russians, whether or not their "peaceful coexistence" campaign had anything to do with it. Some experts here think the Assembly's vote was mainly a matter of French politics and anti-German traditions.

At any rate, there is high optimism that Western defense plans will not suffer another similar defeat in France. If this optimism proves justified, some American officials believe the main cause for Russia's backslapping campaign will have ceased to exist.

Meanwhile, of course, the Kremlin may think up some other reason to carry on, but developments in the last two days suggest this is not necessarily so.

Yesterday, for example, Russia formally warned France that ratification of the German treaties will annul a French-Russian mutual assistance treaty signed in 1944. Even though the Soviet line on this is familiar, the formal notice is a fairly tough action.

Two days ago the Soviet Foreign Ministry announced in a broadcast from Moscow that Russia supports Red China's claim on Formosa and denounced the defense pact which the United States signed with Nationalist China earlier this month.

Two Injuries, Two Accidents Reported Here

Although Safe Driving Day is only two days past, Pickaway County continues to roll a steady list of accidents.

During S-D Day, three mishaps in Pickaway County and one in Fairfield, just across the county line, all occurred on Route 22. Two were west of the city, the other two east.

Early Friday morning, the fifth accident took place on that same route. A Lancaster motorist received a laceration to his right ring finger when his car skidded sideways into a tree.

Delbert Shuttleworth, 22, told Deputy Sheriff Carl White that his car started to skid when he rounded a curve in the road. The accident occurred at 1:05 a. m., 500 feet west of E. Ringgold-Southern Rd., five miles east of Circleville.

* * *

THURSDAY NIGHT, a 12-year old boy suffered a fracturred left collar bone when he was struck by a car on the Circleville-London-Northern Rd., known as the Darbyville Pike.

Norvil C. Sparks, 36, the motorist, said he had his parking lights on while driving along the road. He saw a boy, Clarence Grayson, start across the highway and applied his brakes.

Unauthorized GOP Workers Accused Of Ballot Count

CINCINNATI (AP) — Unauthorized Republican party workers counted ballots in four precincts, the Hamilton County Board of Elections was told yesterday.

The board is investigating the counting of ballots in the Nov. 2 election. Many discrepancies have been uncovered.

Democrat Harry G. Glandorf said Robert Geghan, a Republican, "took active control of the voting place" after the tallying started.

George F. Eyrich Jr., a Republican member of the election board, said the board did not plan to question Geghan, GOP chairman of the 20th Ward and municipal court bailiff. He said:

"I'm not excusing Geghan. But the real culprits were the presiding judges who allowed the outsiders to count. The responsibilities were with the presiding judges."

hardware store manager, a construction superintendent, a railroad ticket office cashier, a tool and die maker, a receiving clerk for a chemical firm and a factory foreman.

During the lawyers' summations this week, Sheppard shifted his chair so that he was looking straight at the jury. He held a small metal object (it appeared to be a gold or gilded cross) in his hands. Usually, he sat with hands folded, as though in prayer.

But when the state was describing him as a liar, an adulterer, and a murderer, he kept a blank, stony look.

Several times, tears welled into his eyes and started to course down his cheeks. He covered his face with his handkerchief. References to his wife's unborn child frequently made him weep.

On the night of that July 3, two neighbors came to the Sheppard home for dinner. They left shortly after midnight.

* * *

AT THAT TIME Sheppard was stretched out on a couch in the downstairs living room. He says he fell into a deep sleep. When her guests were gone, Marilyn Sheppard went upstairs to bed.

Sheppard says he was awakened by her screams. He cannot say what time it was.

He rushed up to the bedroom. A "form," he says, was bending over his wife. He says he struggled with this assailant and almost instantly was knocked unconscious. When he came to, he says, he found his wife savagely beaten about the head and face. He touched her; she was dead.

Then, he says, he heard a noise downstairs, and caught sight of the "form" again, now in the yard, heading toward his beach, bordering Lake Erie.

He says he caught up with the "form" on the beach. He describes a large, powerfully built man with a big head and bushy hair. He again grappled with the prowler and again was struck down unconscious, he says.

He says when he regained consciousness the lake waves were washing over his body. He went back to the house.

Minutes before 6 a. m., he telephoned his friend, Bay Village Mayor Spencer Houk and said, "I think they've killed Marilyn."

The state does not believe this story.

Between the fixed times—when the neighbors left and when Sheppard telephoned Houk—the prosecution contends Sheppard was busy obliterating evidences of his crime, washing blood off himself and arranging the house to give the appearance of a burglary.

Rotary-Ann Gathering Hears How Poles Yearn For Liberty

The annual Rotary-Ann party was held at the EUB Community Center Thursday evening when approximately 80 Rotarians and Rotary-Anns heard a talk by the Rev. Howard Muma, pastor of the Broad St. Methodist Church, Columbus.

The Rev. Mr. Muma selected as title for his address, "The Finest News in the World"—referring to the manner in which people behind the Iron Curtain would gladly welcome the democratic way of life. He related many experiences he had in 1953, when he visited Warsaw, Poland.

He told of miserable conditions in that city as result of damage caused during World War II. Members of the post-war "underground", he assured his listeners, would consider it "the finest news" if they could be told the Soviet rule over them had ended.

Turning to America's own preparation for the Yuletide and all that it means, the Columbus minister said:

"We have so much to be thankful for at the Christmas season. And some of the finest news that could come to many homes in America is that there would be love and happiness for the home.

* * *

'HOME IS the place for peace, and for love—but too often we find unhappy homes, broken homes, and divorce. Yet, the home is America's foundation."

For a better life for any individual, the Rev. Mr. Muma recommended four rules:

1. Don't criticize, condemn or complain.
2. Give honest and sincere appreciation for work well done.
3. Learn to be 'a good guy to play next to.'
4. Realize that the greatest of life's rewards cannot come merely through dollars and cents.

Members of the committee in charge of the annual Rotary Ann banquet were: Dave Yates, Dr. John Bowers, Harry Hill, Eldred Parsons and Jack Dalton.

9 From County Set To Serve On Committee

Seven men and two women have been elected to a nine-member citizens committee to make a survey of the various school districts in the county as ordered under Ohio House Bill 128.

In all, 16 names had been submitted by the convention — one from each township except Circleville plus one from Ashville.

The committee is now charged with the duty of making a report within a year. They are permitted, under the law, to make any recommendations for the merging of school districts.

No date has been set for any future meetings.

Free Concert Set Sunday By CHS Choir

One of the top attractions of the district's holiday season will be offered free to the public next Sunday afternoon when the 94-voice Circleville High School Choir presents its annual Christmas Vesper Program.

Letter To The Editor

The Circleville Herald encourages letters to the editor on pertinent subjects of local interest. However, unsigned letters will be disregarded. Nom de plume will be used if requested.

Editor, The Herald:

The article that appeared in Wednesday's paper written by the sports reporter certainly expressed my sentiments in regards to the people of Circleville in their support of the basketball games!

Speaking as a parent of one high school student who participates at every game, I am ashamed of the support Circleville is giving the ball club this year!

The voters of Circleville have seen to it that the kids have a wonderful place for physical education and basketball. No longer do we have to sit in the drafty coliseum to see a game. A basketball game is a place to take the whole family—it is warm—comfortable—convenient—adequate rest rooms, refreshments available; but you say the games last too late. What kids, who are old enough to go to the games, don't stay up to see "LUCY"?

The team this year has great possibilities, and any team will work harder if the bleachers are packed and the home town is behind it with their attendance and support.

Kids can buy a ticket for 25 cents —IF they will support the cheering section, and what kid doesn't yell at the game?

Thanks to the writer of the article in Wednesday's paper for putting into print what I have felt about the way Circleville people, especially parents of those children who are participating, are supporting the basketball teams.

Come on! Parents, friends of Circleville Schools. Get Behind the teams! Let's fill that new gym and encourage the teams, both varsity and reserve, by attending the game Friday nite.

If the families of the boys and girls who are on the teams attend and bring someone with them we could almost overflow that thimble!

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

MRS. WAYNE RODGERS

A daughter of Alexander and Mary Starkey Iles, Mrs. Rodgers was a member of the Church of the Brethren.

She is survived by a son, Howard, of Ashville; a brother, Clell Iles of Circleville; a sister, Mrs. Dessie Frakes of Columbus and three grandchildren.

3 Circleville Men Among Graduates

Three Circleville men were among those honored Friday afternoon when diplomas were handed out to 544 graduates of the Autumn quarter at Ohio State University.

Among the graduates were: Richard E. Harrington, bachelor of chemical engineering; Karl C. Johnson, bachelor of science in business administration, and Charles G. Will, master of arts.

The commencement ceremonies were to be held in the men's gymnasium on the OSU campus. Dr. Howard F. Lowry, president of the by Russia's latest note threatening to denounce the 1944 French-Soviet treaty if the French ratify the Paris accords to rearm West Germany.

All NATO's council meetings are closed, but NATO press officers were allowed to attend the unrestricted part of the session.

One press officer quoted Mendes-France as saying:

"They don't know the French people if they think they can modify French policy by threats."

The premier according to this account, described the latest Soviet note as an attempt to intimidate French public opinion and parliament, and thus to influence next week's ratification vote in the National Assembly.

He added that this will not modify in any way the determination of the French government to win ratification as rapidly as possible.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western democracies, traditionally keeping their military commanders under civil control, face a decision which may someday mean the difference between survival and destruction.

The foreign ministers of the 14 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, meet- two basic questions:

. If the Russians attack, with or without atomic weapons, should the military commanders of NATO have the right to order instant retaliation with atomic weapons?

When Russia and the West have filled their atomic arsenals, each will be a deterrent to the other's inclination to begin a war. But suppose one side made a sudden, surprise atomic attack of vast proportions.

It might win if it could knock out the other side's ability to retaliate. If Russia made such a surprise attack, the NATO Allies wouldn't have much time to make up their minds about retaliating, if they still could.

In case of such a Russian attack, the NATO commanders would almost have to have authority to repay Russia with atomic bombing without waiting for the civilian heads of NATO's government to get together and say "go ahead."

But suppose Russia, anxious to escape atomic reprisals but bent on aggression, made an attack somewhere without using nuclear weapons. What should the West do—begin an atomic attack on Russia?

If it did, Russia would certainly respond with an atomic attack of its own and the world would be in the atomic war it had dreaded.

Who then should make the decision on using atomic weapons against Russia if it committed aggression with or without atomic weapons? NATO's military commanders? Or the civilian heads of the NATO governments?

Secretary of State Dulles and the other 13 NATO ministers in Paris have to wrestle with that one, knowing how far-reaching may be the decision they finally work out.

In Paris, a U.S. spokesman said this country takes the position no sure-fire system can be set up in advance to determine how the big decision on use of atomic weapons can be made.

It would be the United States which had the great atomic arsenal for use if Russia did try an attack although NATO forces now are ready to be equipped with new "wonder weapons."

A surprise attack by Russia might, in the American view, wipe out any machinery set up by NATO to make the decision on retaliation. But the West Europeans live closer to Russian bombs than the United States.

And both the British and French want some say in a crisis. Some Europeans have expressed fear this country might be "trigger happy" in a touchy situation and they want in on any decision which might end in atomic war.

The British want NATO's military commanders to consult civilian government leaders before using a nuclear weapon. The French have suggested a Big Three "standing group" with power to act in an emergency.

Doctor Flunks Test That He Gave Drunk

HEREFORD, England (AP)—Police charged Charles Finlayson Hunter, 74, with drunken driving. To support their case in Magistrates Court yesterday, they submitted results of a handwriting test on the retired Army colonel and a doctor's certificate that Hunter was incapable of driving. The magistrates decided Hunter's writing was better than the doctor's. Case dismissed.

Naval Officer Aids In Rescue

WINNFIELD, La. (AP) — A naval officer home on leave and a miner went down 800 feet into a salt mine yesterday with portable oxygen equipment and brought up another miner just before their oxygen gave out.

The rescued man, Julius Smith, 40, was overcome by carbon dioxide fumes after an explosion and faced almost certain death. He was reported in "fairly good shape" at a hospital.

Lt. Billy Scroggins had been demonstrating new oxygen equipment to firemen when word of the blast reached him. He took the equipment—without which the rescue would have been impossible—to the mine and descended with Chester Camp.

Annual Bonus Booming Again This Yuletide

Announcements Roll In From Many Various Types Of Business

NEW YORK (AP)—The Christmas bonus — that noble business inchain is dividing up more than two nate workers — is booming this year. More firms are sharing the business pickup with their employes.

The Christmas office party, on the other hand, is in a recession. A number of firms have dropped that form of social mayhem. And some others have decided to have a company picnic next summer instead.

Bonus announcements are coming fast these days. Some store chains are distributing money to their employes across the country The Great Atlantic & Pacific food chain is divving up more than two million dollars. Grand Union is passing out one week's salary as a Christmas gift, J. C. Penney is giving two weeks' extra pay.

Brokerage houses have been flourishing since the public started buying and selling stocks at the fastest clip in recent years. And, fat with commissions, the firms are handing out bonuses with a free hand — some paying out more than ever before in their history. Some lucky employes are getting up to five months' extra pay this Christmas. One big brokerage house is paying out one-fourth of its year's profits in gifts to its workers.

Some banks in this area are also remembering employes with a little of their institution's stock in trade. Money gifts are averaging around five per cent of the bank employe's yearly stipend.

Industrial corporations around the country are also being generous — especially those that the recession left untouched, or those who made their rejustment early.

It's quite a different picture from a year ago, when bonuses were shrinking even faster than the Federal reserve board's industrial production index. This Christmas the bonuses seemed to be based about as much on expectations of a good year ahead as on the pickup in business in recent weeks.

Christmas parties are another story. The office party still flourishes, of course. But the Employees Assn. of Chicago polled 260 corporations and reports that less than year. Some 40 that had parties last year are dropping them. Some are giving employes extra time off instead, or turning the firm's contribution to such a party over to charity. Some, however, are substituting a party for the children of their employes.

Nationwide, a survey of more than 1,000 companies by the National Foremen's Institute shows that four per cent fewer are holding parties this year. More than half won't have them. Eighty per cent, however, are giving either extra time off or extra pay for the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

And around half of them are handing out Christmas cash bonuses to their employes. Some who aren't handing out money are passing out merchandise, turkeys or hams.

The drift away from the office party apparently can be traced to that institution's tendency to breed unhappy aftermaths, as celebrated in cartoons and radio comedian's skits, as well as to the suspicion the party is linked to the rise in traffic accidents at this time of year.

Lazy Cows

USDA figures show milk production per cow has risen in past 10 years from average of 4,600 pounds to 5,400 pounds. Average and below-average producers fail to pay their own way and both federal and state dairy authorities recommend sending to slaughter any questionable producers.

Water Pollution Attack Planned

COLUMBUS (AP) — Stronger enforcement policies to back up Ohio's water pollution control law have been agreed upon by Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill and Dr. Ralph E. Dwork.

Dr. Dwork, chairman of the water pollution control board and director of the Ohio Department of Health said:

"Alibis and excuses in these cases are beginning to wear thin and members of the board are losing patience. The future will see a definite tightening of requirements by the board. It can be expected that more cases are going to be cited to the attorney general."

O'Neill said he would support the board with court action.

Chiropractor Case Ousted By Judge

BUCYRUS (AP) — Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll yesterday threw out indictments against three Crawford County chiropractors charged with practicing without licenses.

The judge upheld a motion by the chiropractors' lawyer stating Ohio statute does not define what chiropractic is.

Dr. Stephen S. Weaver and Dr. C. E. Butler, both of Bucyrus, and Dr. L. W. Thatcher of Galion were the chiropractors involved.

Charges were filed last August by Lawrence A. Dietrich, inspector for the state medical board.

Parimutuel Bets OKd By Tribunal

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has turned down the request of Charles P. Masterson of Cleveland for an injunction halting state-approved parimutuel betting on horse races.

Masterson named the state racing commission, state officials and operators of two tracks in the Cleveland area in his action.

His suit asserted parimutuel betting was in violation of the state constitution, which says that 'lotteries and the sale of lottery tickets, for any purpose, whatsoever, shall forever be prohibited in this state." But the high court ruled Masterson lacked legal capacity to sue the racing commission.

34 Men Added To Road Patrol

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Highway Patrol was within five men of its authorized strength of 650 uniformed officers yesterday with the announcement of the graduation of 34 students from the patrol's training school.

The men were assigned immediately after graduation, the culmination of 14 weeks training.

Williams County Probes Beating

BRYAN (AP)—Authorities in Williams County today were investigating the fatal beating of George G. Metcalf, 62, who died Wednesday in a Wauseon hospital.

Sheriff Howard Zuver said Metcalf suffered a broken nose, fractures of both jaws and face lacerations when severely beaten in a brawl outside a Montpelier tavern early Sunday.

At the time he refused hospitalization and did not appear seriously hurt.

Glory to God in the Highest

ALL THE UNIVERSE IS CALLED UPON TO PRAISE JEHOVAH

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"GLORY TO GOD in the highest," not only on Sunday in church, but every day—when we rise in the morning, during the day, and at night when we go to rest. How many people never think of God and His goodness from Monday morning to Sunday, when they go to church and sing His praises with the rest of the congregation? Are you one of those?

In Psalm 148, all the universe is called upon to praise Jehovah. It was composed after the return from The Exile, possibly in the Fifth Century B.C. The word praise is the result of prizing, so our praising of God is our expression of prizing Him. If we realize God in our lives, we shall prize Him and thus praise Him. He is precious to us.

"Praise ye the Lord. Praise ye the Lord from the heavens; praise Him in the heights. Praise ye Him, all His angels; praise ye Him all His hosts. Praise ye Him, sun and moon; praise Him, all ye stars of light.

"Praise Him ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens. Let them praise the name of the Lord; for He commanded, and they were created."

Then the Psalmist calls on all the creations of nature to also praise the Lord, and finally human beings:

"Kings of the earth, and all people; princes, and all judges of the earth: Both young men and maidens; old men and children: Let them praise the name of the Lord; for His name alone is excellent; His glory is above the earth."

We are assigned two references to the birth of our Savior—one in Matthew and one in Luke. St. Luke's account is more elaborate than Matthew's, and he tells of the shepherds who were the first to be informed of the Child's birth by the angel of God. Matthew tells of the lordly wise men—the Magi—who came to visit the Babe and bring Him gifts.

Matthew begins. "Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise." He goes on to say that Joseph and Mary were espoused. She was going to have a child and an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, telling him the Child born to her would be holy and that they should call Him Jesus, as He would save His people from their sins.

The younger children might be asked if they have had a new baby at their house recently or if there has been one at a friend's home? Ask them to describe it if they have and tell of the happiness it brought to the home in which it came.

No matter how much joy is brought into any human home because of the birth of a darling infant, it cannot cause the joy that has been brought into the world by Jesus' birth. He is the only one that can "save us from our sins."

The birth of Jesus was prophesied by the Prophet Isaiah, when he said, "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call His name Emmanuel, which, being interpreted is God with us."

St. Luke's story of the shepherds guarding their flocks at night always gives me the greatest thrill: To these humble, unlearned men came the first message of the coming of our Lord:

"And there were in the same country, shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

"And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men."

Even in our skeptical and material world those words bring a feeling of hope and peace to us. We hear or read of the atom bomb, and fear enters our hearts, but when we read the words of "peace on earth goodwill toward men," we think that maybe wars and rumors of wars will surely end, and be replaced by goodwill and brotherhood.

The shepherds went to Bethlehem; they saw the Child and His lovely, gentle mother, and they came away telling everyone they met of Him and they praised God.

This Christmas is the most important birthday and holiday in all the world. Let us, too, praise God for it and put our trust in Him.

Glory to God in the Highest — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Psalm 148; Matthew 1:18-25; Luke 2:1-20.

"Praise ye the Lord, all His angels, all His hosts; kings of the earth and all princes and judges; both young men and maidens, old men and children; let them praise the name of the Lord."

Before the birth of Jesus, an angel appeared to Joseph, telling him that his wife would bear a son, and that they should name Him Jesus, for He would save His people from their sins.

A tax decree, to be paid by each man in his own city, sent Joseph of Nazareth and his wife, Mary, from their home in Nazareth to Bethlehem, for they were of the lineage of David.

Shepherds watching their flocks by night were frightened by a great light. An angel appeared, telling them not to fear for in Bethlehem a Savior was born. MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 1:21.

"THOU SHALT NOT KILL"

ACTUAL NUMBER of persons murdered by the notorious Bender family, during the early days of Kansas history, has never been fully determined. Whatever the record may have been apparently it is surpassed by a "giggling grandmother," Nannie Doss.

Authorities say it is possible she murdered at least a dozen persons, using rat poison in every case. She has confessed to killing four of her five husbands, and would have done in the fifth if he had not become suspicious and walked out.

In addition to these four, authorities who are digging into her past believe she poisoned her parents, a mother-in-law, two sisters, two daughters and a step-grandson. If all these can be verified, Grandmother Doss will have hung up a record for murder which should stand a long time in the annals of crime.

Apparently the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," meant nothing to this creature. The Benders killed for loot. Mrs. Doss did not profit from any of her murders, according to her confession. Criminologists will have a hard time explaining her case.

A plea of insanity, if sustained, will permit her to go unpunished and society will care for her during the remainder of her life. In that case she will have nothing to fear but her own conscience. And that doesn't seem to be working.

LODGE'S EXPLANATION

HENRY CABOT LODGE, JR., this country's ambassador to the United Nations, has offered a belated explanation for the extremely high casualties suffered by the United States during the Korean war.

Presumably the war against communists was being waged by all of the 60 members of United Nations. Yet this country supplied 90 per cent of the non-native troops, and suffered 140,500 casualties, including 25,000 known dead and 13,200 missing, presumed dead.

Lodge declares that many other UN members offered to supply troops but were unable to arm them. The UN high command turned down these offers unless the nations involved could equip their own soldiers. As a result the United States was left practically alone in the fighting, with disastrous results just enumerated.

These and other facts have served to discount the efficiency of United Nations as a factor for peace. If a large majority of the members are unable to fight, regardless of how willing they may be to do so, the United Nations will never stop the threat of war.

Under Burmese law, a wife may become head of the household if the husband drinks too much. But then, after drinking too much, the husband probably doesn't care anyway.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Those university professors who make such a fuss about academic freedom often fail to grasp the essential fact that under our Constitution no citizen possesses more rights than any other citizen. What they seem to claim is that because a man teaches in a college, his freedoms are increased by his manner of earning his living.

The Constitution makes a specific provision for freedom of the press; yet this newspaper in which these words appear is not utterly free. It can be sued for libel; it can be deprived of the use of the mails if it publishes what the Post Office regards as a salacious article, say, the photograph of a completely nude woman; it can get itself into contempt of court if it flouts the obiter dicta of a judge. Senator Joe McCarthy was condemned, despite Senatorial privileges, for calling Senators unpleasant names but he remains uncondemned for speaking harshly to a General.

On this subject of freedom of expression, I came across the weekly bulletin of the Blessed Sacrament Church of Wichita, Kansas. It contains a charming recital of a great stupidity and I want to give it to you in full:

"An unknown painter, in the employ of the City of Wichita, passed by our school last spring as the school term ended. He touched up, with the painter's art, our 'Safety Sal' traffic signs. We do not know his identity nor did we see him at work.

"In his zeal he painted out the Thanks' on the reverse of the sign, and in its place he lettered 'God Bless You', which every Catholic knows is a prayer, that says 'Thank You', in a manner par excellence.

'When the janitor stored the signs in our school for the summer vacation, we noted the change and gave it our fervent approval. All summer long, when we passed 'Safety Sal' in the eighth grade room she said, 'God Bless You'. We returned the salutation: 'And you too, Safety Sal'.

"Then came Registration Day, August 30, 1954. The signs were marched into the heavy traffic of Douglas Ave., to remind drivers that they should slow up because school children were around. She gave out her salutation to each and every passer-by. 'God Bless You', she said. The very atmosphere of Douglas Ave. seemed changed by her cheery greeting.

"The Wichita Eagle, the Wichita Beacon and even the Hutchinson News, heard about it and made their comments. Hutchinson's Television Station mentioned it in the ten o'clock news one night.

'Then came the H Bomb. Mr. Rankin of the Department of Street Signs telephoned: 'You have changed the wording on your 'Safety Sal'' signs. That must be corrected'. We assured him that we changed no such wording and that we had no intention of changing it now. It was not our fault and we did not do it. Furthermore it was done without our knowledge or consent. Mr. Rankin: 'It must be changed and I will do it in the morning'.

"We told him that we liked it better this way. Mr. Rankin: 'You must conform. The street is no place for those words anyway We will get complaints'. We asked why not wait for the complaints. Mr. Rankin: 'We must forestall complaints and you must conform. I will change it in the morning'.

Don't Neglect an Ulcer

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A PEPTIC ulcer can do more than cause you discomfort and pain. If neglected, it can kill you.

If you know you have an ulcer and feel widespread severe tenderness over your abdomen, it's a pretty good indication that it is in danger of breaking through the stomach or bowel wall. If you have extreme, agonizing pain, it's likely the perforation or rupture has already occurred. In this case, your breathing becomes shallow, your pulse may increase, and your abdomen is hard and tender.

Profuse Bleeding

If there is a great deal of bleeding when the ulcer ruptures, you may feel faint, weak, dizzy and begin to sweat. You probably vomit blood, too.

After a short time, you'll develop symptoms of shock. Your temperature will increase, your blood pressure will drop, and your abdomen will become swollen. There will also be an increase in the number of white cells in the blood.

Well before these symptoms have developed, I hope you have summoned your doctor, because, in a case like this, an operation is necessary.

Feeding Continued

Feeding must be continued. In fact, your doctor will permit you to swallow as much as you desire, excluding, of course, everything barred by your diet.

If the ulcer is bleeding profusely, you'll need a blood transfusion. The doctor will also give you fluids and dextrose solutions through the veins.

Avoiding An Operation

By intelligently planning your diet, however, getting enough rest and keeping calm, you probably will never need an operation for your ulcer.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. L. K.: I have had piles for three years, and have a constant pain in the rectum. Is this serious?

Answer: As a rule, piles are not serious. It is advisable, however, that you have the condition corrected. Surgery is often required. Injection treatment may be satisfactory. Your physician will advise you as to the best treatment in your case.

Noted German zoologist says the African elephant, lion and gorilla face extinction. Looks like our zoo goers may have to patronize home-grown beasts, like the buffalo and grizzly bear.

Survey shows the number of gorillas running around wild is down to less than 10,000. Come to think of it-is THAT bad?

We also hear the elephant population of the so-called Dark Continent has shrunk to approximately 200,000. However, we'd say that 200,000 big pachyderms would do the crowding instead of vice versa.

The Frenchmen, we read, are taking the lead in the renaissance of chin whiskers. Maybe, for once, 40 million Frenchmen CAN be wrong.

The French indicentally, never were great beard growers—specializing in the little dinky brushes called 'imperials.'' We have yet to see a picture of a Frenchman wearing face bush as glorious as that once proudly worn by John Greenleaf Whittier.

CHAPTER TWENTY

NOT a word of his technique or values or his background, had Enid mentioned of his painting of Cindy, yet Gary would rather have heard her say what she had. "You're amazing!" he explained.

She looked at him. "Why?"

"First—I didn't expect you to say anything like that. Aren't most girls a little jealous of a very pretty girl?"

She dropped down on a stool by the work table. "I never have envied pretty girls but I do envy anyone like you! You think something, at least in the special part of your mind, and then you pick up a brush and put it on canvas. You make it live! Writers do that, and composers, architects, engineers . . . But most of us—we think things and that's all. At least ones like me. I want to do something—just do something that's me!"

Gary said, "There's a pretty big choice these days, isn't there?"

Enid said soberly: "That's what I'm thinking about. I must decide on something that I can do. And I haven't any talent for anything. Whatever I decide I'll probably have to study or take some training for it."

He moved toward the stove. "What say we scramble up some lunch? Like spaghetti? I've a can of it with tomato sauce. Coffee in the pot."

Enid said: "Let me start the fire. I'm getting quite expert." She began at once to put kindling into the little stove. Gary liked that—nothing in her manner to indicate that she saw this as a romantic adventure.

They ate at a corner of Gary's work table. They did not talk much but Gary realized that the little silences that fell were comfortable, companionable. The rain closed in, in a pleasant way.

They washed their plates and cups. "I'd better go," said Enid.

She was going to tell her mother. Gary was inordinately pleased at that. He said, a little drily: "It'd be all right if I were on the eligible list?"

Enid laughed. "It's wonderful to have you understand! And it isn't that I'm afraid to go against her. At least these last few weeks I'm not. It's—she is awfully unhappy, living there on the farm—especially so now. I can't upset her too much."

She put on her boots, the coat, the hood, went to the door. There she turned. "I will come again!"

"The next rainy day?" he asked.

She went out into the rain, down the path. He watched her until she disappeared among the trees. "Some girl!" he said aloud.

• • •

Jennie Todd walked in the rain that day. To the village, wearing a faded blue raincoat and rubbers and holding an umbrella over her head. She walked fast, as if she must hurry to do what she was going to do. As, indeed, she must before some courage she had found petered out in her.

She had bolted the door between herself and Hester again. Then, yesterday, Hester had come to her front door. Jennie opened it, not knowing who had knocked on it. Hester was smiling. She said: "I've brought a letter for you Jenn."

"Read it, Jenn. It's from Miss Millhouse. And I'll wager you anything she's writing for you to get back on the job!"

Jennie picked up the letter, opened it. "Yes, she wants me to come back." Her voice was steady as she said it. She read the letter aloud. "If it isn't possible for you to come back by the first of August at the latest, it will be necessary for me to engage someone else in your position."

"I thought that was what she had written," said Hester. "I told you she'd need you!"

Jennie folded the letter.

"I'm not going back!" she said.

Hester stared at her. "Jenn, are you insane? You can't expect me to find you another job!"

"No, I don't expect you to."

"What will you do?"

"Stay here. I like it here."

"What will you live on?"

"I'll find some way of earning money. I've a little saved, and it doesn't cost much to live here."

Hester drew herself up straight. "Unfortunately, however, I can't dismiss a feeling of concern for you. I beg you not to answer Miss Millhouse's letter without giving it very serious thought — saner thought." With that she went out the front door.

Jennie sat down and wrote a letter to Miss Millhouse—a letter of resignation. Tomorrow she would walk to the village and mail it.

• • •

Reaching the village, she went directly to the post-office. The postmistress greeted her with a surprised laugh. "My goodness, Miss Todd, you out in this rain! It must be an important letter you have to mail."

"It is," said Jennie. "Anyway, I like to walk in the rain."

"Well, I do myself if I'm dressed for it. I'll see this goes on the 2:30. No mail come for you yet today. How's everything up at your farm?"

"Going very well," said Jennie. "You really like it? I have a hankering to live in a city. I've got it in the back of my mind to quit this job. My husband had it and when he died I got appointed to it. But it's too confining—I don't like to be shut in. I'm going to just cut loose, go somewhere, maybe to Albany. If anything breaks for me, I'll stay there."

Jennie went out and found herself face to face with Wick Middleton, for the immediate instant unrecognizable in a shabby raincoat and old hat.

"Of all things!" he exclaimed. "Where were you heading for?"

"The restaurant," she said.

"No, you're not! You're going home with me—meet Net. She always has enough food for a half-dozen!"

"Oh, no!" said Jennie.

"Why not? You said you'd like to meet her and she wants to meet you." He put his hand under her elbow and turned her around. "I want you to see my library!"

She walked along with him.

Nettie's greeting was hearty. "I've wanted to meet you, Miss Todd. Take off those wet things. Wick, hang them in the shed. Sit down, Miss Todd, in this rocker, while I lay another place. Hope you like creamed chipped beef?"

"On Net's biscuits," said Wick from the shed door. "And you'll say afterwards that you never tasted anything like it!"

"Go along, Wick. Miss Todd, he flatters me just so that I'll keep on fattening him up!"

"The basket you sent up to Cindy—you were very kind," said Jennie.

" 'Twas nothing. I worried about the child—about all of you, with those stoves."

"We're managing very well," said Jennie. "Though we're not baking anything."

After lunch he suggested that they go into the living-room to see his books.

"But I am," said Jennie.

A pleasant, old-fashioned room with comfortable shabby chairs, tables, lamps, and his books on plain shelves against one wall. "Oh!" said Jennie eagerly, going to them.

"Mostly old titles—some were my father's, others I've bought here and there, second-hand. It's a weakness of mine. But they're good company."

"Yes," said Jennie, thinking of the old bookshop where she had been so happy.

When they went back to the kitchen Nettie was putting some glass jars into a small basket. "Currant jelly—I made it day before yesterday. I thought you and your sister and Cindy would like some of it—if you don't mind carrying it with you."

"Oh, thanks! No, I won't mind—I'm going to get that taxi man to drive me back. I have to get some supplies at the store. We'll enjoy it!"

Jennie said, as they went through the gate, "I like your cousin Nettie."

Wick looked pleased. "Run in often to see her. You go to the market now and I'll pick you up there and drive you home."

"No, no," said Jennie quickly.

Wick said: "I think I understand. I'll get hold of Ed Pauly. Tell him to stop for you."

He walked with her to the market, carrying the basket of jelly, the umbrella over her head. As they reached the store they saw Hester's big car drawn up by the curb across the street, Hester alone in it. They saw Hester give them one sweeping glance, then turn her head away as if she had not seen them.

Neil Morgan, San Diego columnist, is a neighbor of Ted ("Dr. Seuss") Greisel, distinguished author and helicopter authority. Whenever a youngster Neil knows celebrates a birthday, he presents him with a copy of Ted's "Scrambled Eggs Super."

One recipient's imagination was so fired by Geisel's text that he marched out to the kitchen and whipped up some scrambled eggs of his own. Known ingredients were four eggs, a box of stale marshmellows, a bowl of prunes, a bottle of cola, and a dash of about everything popable he could find in the icebox.

The concoction finished, the young chef marched straight over to Geisel's house with it, and presented it with a flourish. Ted, furthermore, was not the man to disappoint a youngster so obviously bent on doing him homage.

"This wonderful dish is too rich for my blood," said "Dr. Seuss." "We'll just save is as a treat for my publisher."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON — Congressional Democrats will give only feeble support to the Eisenhower-Humphrey attempt to balance the budget and thereby win a reputation as prudent managers of the nation's economy. The opposition, which will control both House and Senate, will be lavish in handing out federal funds to various groups of voters.

The Secretary of the Treasury now concedes that he cannot make both ends meet in this fiscal year, which winds up on June 30, and he sees little likelihood that he can lift the government out of the red in the fiscal period that closes on June 30, 1956. Thus, the Administration which had promised to improve on the Truman-Roosevelt spending record, will enter the 1956 presidential campaign with this pledge unfulfilled.

It will be a blow to the GOP's standing contention that businessmen can handle federal affairs and finances more wisely and efficiently than the politicians. Neither F.D.R. nor Harry S. Truman had enjoyed the experience or background that most of Ike's cabinet members brought to Washington.

* * *

FIGHT—The first money battle will be staged over possible deferment of the date when corporate and excise taxes are due to expire. These levies, which were imposed to help in financing the Korean "police action," will end automatically on April 1, unless they are continued by congressional act.

The corporation tax would fall from 52 to 47 per cent, and the extra taxes on liquor, cigarettes, gasoline, etc., would be removed. It is estimated that the loss to the Treasury will amount to about $2.3 billion annually. Such a heavy cut in revenue would result in 1955 and 1956 deficits ranging from $5 billion to $8 billion a year.

In view of Dulles-Stassen plans for increasing foreign aid to Asia it is expected that Eisenhower will ask that these taxes be retained, possibly permanently. With the exception of a few Southern conservatives, Ike need look for scant support from the Democrats.

* * *

MOVES—The Democrats will probably renew their bid for the mass vote by demanding a $100 increase in exemptions for taxpayers in the lower brackets. Even such a noted conservative as Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia favors this grant, agreeing with the more liberal Humphrey-Lehman faction that the 1954 reduction gave preferential treatment to the higher bracketeers.

The opposition will also make a play for the influential vote of the army of federal employes, especially postoffice workers. Eisenhower pocket-vetoed a higher salary bill last summer on the ground that it failed to provide additional revenue to finance the increases. He has said that he will approve a 5 per cent boost, but only if postal rates are raised to furnish the extra money.

* * *

BOOST—The Democrats will fight for a 7 or 10 per cent boost, with or without a provision for financing it. In their opinion, their congressional gains last month resulted largely from the so-called "federal vote," which resented Ike's veto.

Numerous measures restoring farm supports to 90 per cent have already been framed, and will be dropped into the legislative boxes on the opening day of the session, Jan. 5. The Democrats feel that they would have won larger majorities in both chambers in the recent election, if they had made a greater effort on behalf of the farmers during the last session.

* * *

DECISIVE BALLOT—The continued absence of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massashucetts emphasizes the importance of Sen. Wayne L. Morse's defection from the GOP. Without the ill Kennedy's presence, the lineup will be 47 Republicans and 47 Democrats, making the Oregonian's ballot decisive on organization of the Senate.

Incidentally, although Morse classifies himself as an "Independent," he is still registered as a Republican. He has not burned all his political bridges.

Mrs. Bernard Young Lauded By Pickaway Chapter Of DAR

Mrs. Carl Zehner Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Bernard Young of Circleville Route 1 was presented with an award of merit during a meeting of the Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. W. Emmerson Downing, hostess to the chapter in her home on E. Main St., introduced Mrs. Young, who received the special award from Mrs. Charles H. May in behalf of the chapter.

This honor was presented to Mrs. Young for her outstanding work with the youth of the community. She has been superintendent of her Sunday School for 25 years and had served as commissioner of Circleville and Pickaway County Girl Scouts for nine years. She now serves as Commissioner Emeritus for the Scouts, and also has been active in many community projects.

The session opened in ritualistic form with the pledge to the Flag, led by Mrs. R. Rae Bales, chaplain. Mrs. Rolland Featheringham accompanied the group for the singing of the National Anthem.

A note of appreciation was read by the secretary from Mrs. James P. Moffitt for cards sent to her by the members during her recent illness. Mrs. Bernice M. Hulse, teacher of the sixth grade of Williamsport, sent a note of thanks to the chapter for cards bearing the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the American Creed. More than 400 of these cards have been presented to the sixth grade pupils of the schools in Circleville and the county by the chapter.

Guests welcomed to the session were: Mrs. Young, Mrs. Carl Zehner, Miss Mary Ruth Tolbert, Miss Donna Mitchell and Miss Anne Adkins.

At the conclusion of the business session, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. W. L. Mack, program chairman, who presented Mrs. Martin Cromley and Mrs. Featheringham in a duet of a Christmas medley.

Mrs. Carl Zehner, wife of the pastor of the Lutheran church, gave a Christmas story, "The Little Mixer." Miss Donna Mitchell, accompanied by Miss Anne Adkins, sang, "Jeanette, Isabella", "What Child Is This?" and "Angels We Have Heard on High". Christmas carols, sung by the group, concluded the program.

Mrs. Martin Cromley presided at a tea table decorated in keeping with a Christmas theme. Mrs. Downing was assisted in dispensing hospitality by Mrs. C. T. Hott, Mrs. Bales, Mrs. Fred Brown, Miss Benadine Yates, Mrs. Paul Cromley, Mrs. J. L. Chilcote, Mrs. J. Wray Henry, Miss Ruth Montelius and Mrs. Harry Lewis.

Zoe Dell Riggin Wins County 4-H Baking Contest

Miss Zoe Dell Riggin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Riggin, of Williamsport Route 1 is the 1954 Pickaway County winner of a special baking contest sponsored by a food corporation. The contest has been approved as an activity for 4-H Clubs by the State Extension Service.

The award, a 24 piece baking set, was received by the County Extension office with a letter of recognition and congratulations from Frances Barton of the Consumer Service department of the company.

Miss Riggin, a member of the Jackson Jolly Stitchers and Jackson B.C.F. 4-H Clubs, carried ten different projects this past club year—two including baking experiences. By virtue of winning first place in the county for her Cake and Cookie project, she exhibited a cake at the Ohio State Fair.

Union Veterans Daughters Hold Annual Dinner

An annual 'Daughters Day" dinner, highlight of the year for members of the Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, was held in the banquet room of the Court and Main Restaurant.

A total of 15 members were present for the occasion, which opened with a turkey dinner served at one long table decorated with lighted red tapers and Christmas greenery. A decorated Christmas tree, under which the members placed packages for a gift exchange, added to the festivities.

Mrs. C. O. Kerns, program chairman for the event, led devotions. She was assisted by Mrs. W. E. Pickens, who read the Nativity according to St. Luke. Group singing of "Joy to the World," was followed by recitation of the "Lord's Prayer" in unison.

Mrs. E. L. Tolbert presented a reading, 'How Shall We Spend Christmas?", followed by 'Christmas at the Peters Farm" by Mrs. James Pearce. Mrs. James Trimmer gave a reading on Christmas Eve, and Mrs. H. G. Bausum offered, "Hang Up Baby's Stocking".

Mrs. B. M. Wignel presented a paper on where our various Christmas customs originated, stating that our most popular symbols of the Yuletide, the Christmas tree, the Yule log, and even Santa, are borrowed from peoples of other lands.

The legend of the Christmas tree was given by Mrs. Frank Webbe and Mrs. James Carpenter spoke on Christmas customs of Italy. "Carols are Sung in England," was the title of a reading offered by Mrs. E. A. Smith. Mrs. Pickens closed the program with a reading, "The Unusual and Outstanding Jesus."

Mrs. Kerns led the group in a Biblical contest, which was won by Mrs. Frank Rader, Mrs. Trimmer, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Cora Coffland.

Willing Workers Class Conducts Christmas Meet

The Willing Workers Class of the Pontius Evangelical United Brethren church enjoyed a Christmas program during a regular meeting held in the home of Mrs. Turney Kraft of Circleville Route 4.

Mrs. Forest Croman opened the meeting with a recipe for a 'Yuletide Pudding". Roll call was answered by 14 members and seven visitors were welcomed to the session. During the business meeting, the group voted to contribute $25 to the Otterbein Home at Lebanon.

Mrs. Jacob Glitt, incoming president, appointed her standing committees for the year as follows:

Mrs. Walter Richards, publicity; Mrs. Guy Stockman and Mrs. Ray Bowman, flower committee, and Mrs. Sterley Croman, Mrs. Floy Brobst and Mrs. Glitt, program committee.

Letters of appreciation were read from two shut-ins who had received gifts from the class members.

The Rev. and Mrs. Orla Bradford presented a devotional program. An inspirational reading by Henry Van Dyke was given by the Rev. Mr. Bradford, who also offered prayer at the conclusion of the meeting.

Highlights of a social hour were an exchange of gifts and seasonal refreshments, served by the hostess. Mrs. Brobst will serve as hostess to a January session of the class in her home on Circleville Route 4.

Mrs. Young Is Hostess To Twig Christmas Party

Mrs. Ernest Young of E. Main St. was hostess to members of the Circleville Home and Hospital Twig for an annual Christmas party.

During a short business meeting, the members voted to send jelly to the Main St. and Mound St. Home and Hospitals for Christmas, in addition to the usual activities for the patients.

Two visitors were welcomed to the session, which was attended by 12 members. A gift exchange was enjoyed as highlight of a social hour.

VFW, Auxiliary Host Veterans Christmas Fete

Packages of candy, oranges and cigarettes were presented to the veterans and refreshments of cookies and fruit punch were served. Dancing to the music of the Rhythmaires of Ashville was enjoyed by the entire group.

Blue Star Group Entertains Vets

Refreshments were served to the group and cigarettes and apples were provided for each of the patients. Magazines also were donated to the veterans library by the chapter members.

Always space place mats, silverware and glasses—when you are setting a table—as symetrically as possible. Silverware should be placed so that the bottom of each piece is an equal distance from the table edge.

Calvary Church Has Family Co-Op Supper, Yule Program

A total of 80 people enjoyed a carry-in supper which opened a family night Christmas program held by the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church.

The church annex was the setting for the supper and the program, which was presented by representatives of each of the Sunday School classes of the church.

Group singing of "Jingle Bells" opened the program and was followed by a recitation, "The Night Before Christmas" by Dickie Carothers of the Kindergarten Class. The Builders Class was represented by Margie Conrad and Maxine Stevens, who read Christmas poems.

Mrs. Talmer Wise was accompanied at the piano by Miss Minnie T. Wilkerson for her reading, "The Legend of the Skimpiest Tree." These ladies are members of the Dorcas Pathfinder Class.

The Story, "Whose Birthday Do We Celebrate" was read by Cary Shasteen of the Men's Class. From the Intermediate department, Miss Patty Young sang, "Silver Bells". She was accompanied by the Rev. J. B Recob. Mrs. Dwight Wilson of the Trailmakers Class gave a monologue, "Why Mothers Should Be Triplets".

A group of ladies from the Crusader Class sang, "Winter Wonderland" and "White Christmas". Seven youngsters from the Children's department enacted a manger scene while Butch Wilson sang, "Away In The Manger".

Using the same scene, Mrs. Andrew Goeller sang, "O Holy Night". Mrs. Minnie Lumpe told of the origin of the song, "Silent Night" after which several carols were sung by the group.

An automatic deep fryer was given to the Rev. and Mrs. Recob and son, Johnny, from the Sunday School and church as their Christmas present.

If water rings appear on your dining table here's a treatment you can try. Place a clean thick blotter over the ring and press with a warm (not hot) iron. Repeat until the rings disappear.

Hal Boyle Says:

Never Low-Rate An Enemy

NEW YORK (AP)—A nation that fails to remember in peace the lessons it learns in war runs the risk of sudden oblivion.

This would be a good time for every American soldier and civilian—and every schoolchild, too—to get a tablet and write in it 100 times the following sentence:

"I won't be afraid of the other guy, but I'll never underestimate him either.'

A decade ago Thursday the entire free world awoke to the value of this lesson with a shocked dismay. Thursday was the tenth anniversary of the foggy morning when Adolf Hitler sprung a German Pearl Harbor on the Allies by suddenly s m a s h i n g through their lines in the Ardennes.

Looking back now, the frightening thing about the "Battle of the Bulge" is that the Germans achieved almost as complete a tactical surprise as the Japanese had three years before in their war-opening bombing of our bases in Hawaii.

The bitter lesson of Pearl Harbor ("never low-rate your enemy") had been almost forgotten, certainly by the people at home and probbaly even by some of the top brass.

Final victory seemed so near in Europe. The Nazis, suffering terrible attrition on every battlefront, appeared close to the crumbling point. Some politicians, businessmen, and triple-dome economic crystal gazers were already worrying about a possible postwar depression.

Then Hitler's legions struck, and his waves of Panzers crashed through the thin, stretched out U. S. line as if it were an eggshell. In 48 hours the American public no longer was concerned about postwar problems. It was praying for the men at the front.

It is only fair to those men at the front to say they never had quite shared the unrestrained optimism of the war area and home front. The doughboy in the foxhole is rarely given to unrestrained optimism. So long as even one enemy soldier with a rifle lies in wait on the hill before him, the doughboy must always regard the outcome of his next step as doubtful.

But even our most veteran battlefield troops were dazed by the might of the Nazi attack. And the Belgian people, who have the least reason to underestimate the strength of Germany, were numbed.

Where did the Germans manage to get all those troops and all those tanks?

No one knew. After the war it was learned Hitler had secretly been planning the counteroffensive for months, had drained other battlefronts to flesh it with muscle and steel and cover it with the Luftwaffe's wings.

The thing is: He had been able to do the unexpected. He didn't win the Battle of the Bulge; but he threw a mighty scare into the Allies. He left sad memories in many American homes, a n d would have left a lot more if the luck of the battlefield had gone more in his favor.

Remember how many people jeered at Hitler's bombastic promises he would unleash secret new weapons? He did come up with a few—the buzz bomb, the V-2 rocket, the jet plane. And he had more planned.

And so, remembering the morning Hitler delivered his surprise package, it is a good occasion to take up our pencils and write 100 times:

"I won't be afraid of the other guy, but I'll never underestimate him either."

It's something worth memorizing—this lesson that as a people we often forget so easily.

Bank Thug Caught In 15 Minutes

Ole Arseth, 49, Isabella, Minn., was captured in a chase organized by George Laplant, off-duty Buffalo police chief, who walked unarmed into the Oakley National Bank while the holdup was in progress. Laplant heard a whispered warning from cashier Harold Templin, raced to his police car, radioed the alarm and took off after the fleeing gunman.

Judges Wash Hands Of Kearns Case

COLUMBUS (AP)—Franklin County common pleas court judges yesterday permitted Prosecuting Atty. Frank H. Kearns to withdraw the resignation he submitted to them Dec. 3.

In a surprise move, the judges sent a notice to this effect to Kearns shortly before they were scheduled to meet to consider for the third time his withdrawal.

The notice told Kearns, however, that "the responsibility of staffing your office and of clearing the air is yours." The notice also said in part that "this concludes the entire matter as far as we judges are concerned. We are washing our hands of the whole situation."

Preacher Accused Of Leaving Wife

CINCINNATI (AP) — Domestic relations court has ruled that a minister was guilty of gross neglect of duty and of abandoning his wife without good cause.

Judge Charles W. Hoffman yesterday took away the Cincinnati property rights of the Rev. Leon L. Myers, 66, of Abilene, Tex., a Christian Church evangelist, and granted Mrs. Ada G. Myers, 69, alimony. She requested no divorce.

Mrs. Myers said the minister deserted her for another woman.

The Rev. Mr. Myers was a preacher in Eugene Ore.; Anaheim, Calif.; Dodge City, Kan.; and Atlanta before coming to Cincinnati in 1934. Here he was president of the Christian Restoration Assn.

Auto Driving Tests To Be By Appointment

The first step in revamping the examining procedure for issuing drivers' licenses over the state in order to offer better service to the public has been announced by Director U. C. Felty of the Department of Highway Safety.

Felty said a program calling for examinations by appointment was decided upon following conferences with Colonel George Mingle, superintendent of the State Patrol; C. Ervin Nofer, acting registrar of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, and Captain M. A. Mock, head of the driver examination of the Patrol.

The plan will first be placed into effect on January 2 in Franklin County only, Mock said. He said placing the program in effect in one county will give the driver examination section an "opportunity to smooth out the procedure before adopting it over the entire state."

Mock pointed out that the delay caused by large numbers of applicants coming into examination points at the same time resulted in the decision to give tests by appointment. He said the appointment system will make the work of the examiners more uniformed "instead of meaning that people will have to be turned away on some days while on other days the examiners are not busy."

* * *

MOCK ADVISED Franklin County residents that they must have a valid temporary permit before making an appointment. "Those who fail to keep an appointment will miss their turn and have to go to the end of the appointment list," he said. "This may mean a delay of several days before another appointment can be made."

He stressed the fact that the only way an examination will be given without an appointment is in the event someone fails to keep an appointment and an applicant without an appointment is waiting at the examination station.

Cirminello Quads Nicest, Noisiest Found Anywhere

HOLLIS, Y. (AP) — The Cirminello quads are 10 years old now, and four nicer, noisier, more normal youngsters you couldn't find anywhere.

Maureen, Eileen, Kathleen and Michael live with their parents, Joseph and Kathleen Cirminello, in a two-story gray stucco house in this pleasant residential community in Queens, Long Island.

Their life is bounded by Queens public school 134 five blocks away, the neighborhood Methodist church and evenings of homework, television and devoted parents.

To them the publicity surrounding their birth in a Philadelphia hospital Nov. 1, 1944, is apparently just as interesting as the adventures of Donald Duck, their only comic book — and not a bit more personal.

All are good looking, thin youngsters, with straight, dark brown hair and bright brown eyes. Michael has a spatter of freckles across his nose.

Shortly after 3 p.m., on any schoolday except Thursday, which is when the Girl Scouts and Cub Scouts meet, the blue front door bursts open and the four children clatter in.

Mrs. Cirminello, the former Kathleen Virginia Hatcher, of Okmulgee, Okla., is a pretty, dark-haired, placid woman who can be fond and objective at the same time.

"I have a headache all the time they're home," she says as a matter of unregretted fact. "So help me, it starts when they come home and it stops when they go to bed. They get rowdier and louder every year."

Joseph Cirminello is an accountant investigator with the Securities and Exchange Commission. He was working in Philadelphia with the commission and living in Upper Darby, Pa., when the quads, their only children, were born to his 30-year-old wife. They moved to Arlington, Va., in 1948, and here four years ago.

"Before they came," she recalls, 'I used to think two would be about the right number of children. But you get used to four. The doctor didn't want to worry me, so he told me I would have twins.'

Since the quads' weights at birth ranged from 2 pounds 14 ounces to 3½ pounds, their health has been a constant consideration.

"They've always been thin and wiry and with lots of stamina," Mrs. Cirminello says. 'The last day of every month I line them up and weigh and measure them. They weigh from 54 to 59 pounds, and Maureen, the tallest, is 54 inches. Kathleen was the smallest at birth and still is, but she's healthy.

Eileen wants to be a secretary, Maureen a nurse and Kathleen "a mother like Mama." Michael is all set to be a doctor, "because I think I can make a lot of friends that way. A surgeon."

For Christmas the only thing Mrs. Cirminello knows they want is another little green turtle. Their last one died not long ago and they miss him.

"You see, I don't think they're spoiled and one reason they're not is because they don't get a million things. There's usually only one of a thing and the four have to share it. Consequently, they appreciate what they get because they don't get too much. And I probably shouldn't say this in front of them, but noisy as they are, they're real nice kids."

Mother Is Freed In Mate-Slaying

Mrs. Conzeumius testified she had fired on her mate after he had sought to molest their oldest daughter, 13.

"When a father makes an attack on a daughter he is a trespasser in his own home, forfeits his right to be in the house and is subject to the consequences any trespasser might expect," Circuit Judge James R. Bandy said in his charge to jurors.

Cowboy Of Year Contender Jailed

He is serving a 10-day jail term for speeding 100 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone, and Sheriff Norman Short said he made the cowboy a trusty.

Capital University Expansion Planned

COLUMBUS (AP) — An apartment building for married seminary students is among Capital University building projects approved by the board of regents.

The university said yesterday the board approved preliminary plans for the projects, to be built during the next four years. Final approval by the board is expected next June.

Included are the apartment building, a men's dormitory and additional facilities for the music, speech and fine arts departments.

"We went our way wondering about the mentality of people who would complain about a 'God Bless You', sign in front of a Catholic school and church.

"In the morning we were made to conform. 'Safety Sal' says, 'Thanks', in a detached and formal manner, when she might be saying 'God Bless You', to warm the hearts of the passers-by.

"The inspiration of the unknown and unsung painter, who really had a fine scene of the fitness of things, was buried in the blast of the H Bomb from the City Building.'

To this, one can only say, "God Bless You.'

This thought is particularly directed to Senator Mike Mansfield, a so-called Liberal, who would require former Army and Navy officers to conform to his way of thinking because they had once earned their livelihood in the employ of the Government of the United States.

Property Owners Scan State Rules

Property owners in Pickaway County are scanning with particular interest a newly adopted set of rules for the valuation of real property for taxation purposes.

The State Board of Tax Appeals recently set forth the compulsory 'yardstick", which goes into effect Jan. 1 for a six-year period. While the new rules must be followed by all of Ohio's 88 counties, they are of special concern to Pickaway County in view of a county wide reappraisal ordered in this district for next year.

Because of the growing interest in the state's new "yardstick' for appraisals, The Herald is listing some of the more important rules. Today's article is the second installment in this series.

Among the newly adopted regulations are:

RULE 106

ADOPTION AND USE OF PROPERTY RECORD OR APPRAISAL CARD OR SHEET—A property record card (appraisal card) should be adopted and used for each and every lot, tract or parcel of real property. The property record should be in either sheet or card form as determined by the county auditor.

All land, lots, tracts or parcels of land, and all buildings, structures and improvements to land shall be valued and appraised on the basis of January 1950 costs, less depreciation, and obsolescence, if any.

RULE 107

VALUATION OF AGRICULTURAL, SUBURBAN AND URBAN LOTS, LANDS, TRACTS OR PARCELS OF LANDS.

(A) Agricultural

All agricultural lands shall be appraised on the basis of their worth or value in January of the year 1950. Agricultural lands should be classified according to their characteristics and capabilities for use, based primarily on what they will produce under average conditions and typical management prevailing in the locality.

Assessors should obtain all information available relating to coil classification, land capabilities, land use maps, production records, price records and other information from the Ohio State University, Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service and other sources.

(B) Suburban

Suburban lands classified as residential, commercial or industrial shall be priced and appraised in the same manner as similar lands are appraised in urban areas. and used for residential, commercial or industrial purposes, along roads in a rural district, shall be valued on unit value of so much per front foot, or so much per square foot, or in some cases of larger tracts, so much per acre.

Land used for agricultural purposes in the rear of such special use land shall be valued in the same manner as other farm land, unless it has a greater potential value due to plant expansion, creation of shopping centers, or allotment developments.

(C) Urban

Urban lands within municipalities shall be classified as commercial, industrial, residential, and in a few cases, agricultural. Practically all urban lands should be priced and appraised by either the front foot or square foot method. Establish the base unit price, street by street, and block by block, in all areas. Corrective factors, including percentages used in depth schedules,, corner and alley influences, shall be used when necessary.

The county auditor shall prepare, or have prepared under his supervision, land and unit price maps and price schedules that will be used in appraising all lands in his county. One set of all maps and schedules are to be on file in his office, open for public inspection, during regular office hours, and a duplicate set of all schedules to be filed with the division of County Affairs of the Board of Tax Appeals.

RULE 108

VALUATION OF BUILDINGS.

(A) General

All buildings, structures and improvements to land shall be valued and appraised on the basis of January 1950 costs, less depreciation, and obsolescence, if any.

It should be remembered that the object is to so value and appraise the land and buildings that when the two separate values for land and buildings are added together, the resulting value indicates the true value in money of the entire property in terms of January 1950 prices.

The county auditor is directed and ordered to prepare, or have prepared under his supervision, schedule of all building valuations that will be used in appraising buildings and improvements to land in his county. He should prepare separate schedules for residential, commercial, industrial and farm buildings based on the cost of labor and materials in his county for the month of January 1950.

(B) Residential

Each dwelling should be measured to determine the number of square feet or cubic feet it contains, and a sketch drawn on the property record card.

Residential building cost schedules shall include at least six grade of construction, ranging from very cheap to very expensive; namely, very cheap; cheap; ordinary or average; good; extra good or expensive; very expensive. Each grade should be identified by number or letter. All building costs should be based on prices of labor and materials prevailing in the area to be appraised as of January 1950.

Additional grading may be obtained by adding or deducting up to 20 percent for each grade by using a plus or minus sign, followed by the percent used.

The exterior and interior of each dwelling house should be inspected and graded according to quality of construction.

Child-Abductor Facing Sentence

CLEVELAND (AP) — Clarence Jones, 25, was convicted yesterday of child stealing and assault in the abduction of four-year-old Kenny Broyles. Judge Arthur H. Day delayed sentence until Jones undergoes mental tests.

If found sane, Jones can be sentenced to from 6-40 years in prison. The Broyles boy was lured into an auto near his home last May and dumped on a railroad track, seriously injured. He spent several weeks in a hospital.

Now Here's A GI Who Likes KP And Peeling Potatoes

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP)—There's no appeal like it—the appeal in peeling potatoes.

"It's relaxing," says Pfc. Robert F. Cordy, who can clean 11 spuds in one minute. After he took the speed test recently, his mess sergeant commented:

"Cordy is so good a peeler in the kitchen I'd like to have him on KP every day."

Cordy's prowess as a potato peeler won him recognition this week as KP of the year, a newly created honor for outstanding kitchen performers. He also got a three-day pass from this post but he can't wait to get back.

"It's always warm and clean in the kitchen," he says. "We have lots of coffee to drink, and you never hear of KPs marching, do you?"

The Louisville soldier's enlistment is up in July and he hopes to enter the restaurant business.

Stenographer Voted As Top Harness Horse

COLUMBUS — Stenographer, a rugged three-year-old trotting filly owned by Max Hempt of Mechanicsburg, Pa., has been voted Harness Horse of The Year by a panel of 97 turft writers, the U. S. Trotting Association announced today.

In the closest balloting in years, the daughter of Bill Gallon polled 464 votes to edge out the two-year-old trotting star Scott Frost who had 423. Scott Frost is owned by Sol Camp of Shafter, Calif.

Stenographer actually polled one less first place vote (22 as against 23) than Scott Frost but rolled up her victory margin on the strength of heavy support for second, third, fourth and fifth place. That the race was wide open was indicated by the fact that no fewer than 16 horses were accorded one or more first place votes.

Stenographer is the second of her sex an , the first three-year-old filly to win the national honor. Proximity, as an aged trotting mare, was the winner in 1950.

Adios Boy was third, Kimberly Kid was fourth and Red Sails fifth.

Stenographer, trained and driven by Del Miller, won 23 of her 32 starts this year including 11 stakes victories. She won $65,137.39 and her two year earnings of $123,741 constitute a record for fillies.

The Pennsylvania champion holds eleven world's records, six of which were established this year. She is the champion three-year-old trotting filly off a 1:59.1 mile at Lexington, Ky., which was also the fastest of the season for age and gait.

On her Grand Circuit tour, Stenographer swept the board clean in the filly stakes and also won the $13,800 Reading Futurity in a field which included many of the top colts. She was the beaten favorite in the $106,000 Hambletonian Stake. Her principal victories were scored in the $19,000 Hanover Filly Stake and the $18,000 Coaching Oaks.

Scott Frost, who became the first two-year-old to go a mile in two minutes in a race when he connected in exactly that time at Lexington in October, won nine of his 16 starts, the last eight in a row and $33,733. He is the winter book favorite for next year's Hambletonian.

HORSE	POINTS
1. Stenographer (22)	464
2. Scott Frost (23)	423
3. Adios Boy (17)	280
4. Kimberly Kid (4)	261
5. Red Sails (4)	205
6. Katie Key (4)	137
7. Philip Scott (6)	114
8. Ados Harry (1)	104
9. Pronto Don (6)	99
10. Phantom Lady (2)	85

Niagara '5' Facing Test In Midwest

NEW YORK (AP)—Niagara University's Purple Eagles, rated No. 10 nationally in college basketball circles, headed into the Midwest today for a Saturday night date with Toledo, but it won't be until after Christmas that a definite line can be drawn on Coach Taps Gallagher's fine club.

The Eagles made it 5-1 for the young season last night by mauling Syracuse 99-74 at Niagara Falls, N. Y., and they have only the Toledo engagement before zooming into the Holiday Festival tournament starting Dec. 27 in Madison Square Garden.

That's the one Niagara is waiting for, because it possibly will afford the Eagles another crack at LaSalle, currently rated No. 1 in the AP poll. Last Saturday LaSalle's NCAA champions edged Niagara 76-75 in the final six seconds of an overtime period.

Center Ed Fleming again was Niagara's big man last night with 26 points. He played less than half the game as the Eagles rolled up a 54-31 halftime lead.

There was little action on the college courts last night. At the Garden, the Temple Owls proved they will be tough. They upset St. John's of Brooklyn 77-69. Temple, with a 5-1 record, has only a 70-65 defeat by North Carolina State marring its record.

Maurice Stokes, a classy 6-foot-6 pivot man, led St. Francis (Pa.) to an easy 88-59 victory in the other half of the Garden bill.

CHS Plays Host To Blue Lions For SCOL Tilt

Another jungle battle is in store Friday night as the Tigers of Circleville play host to the Blue Lions of Washington C. H.

The Friday night affair will be Circleville's first South Central Ohio League game. WCH lost its first league outing to Wilmington 64 to 45.

The Blue Lions come to the CHS home court with a season record of 3-2. They won their first two efforts by coming from behind. The WCH quintet topped Grandview 51 to 50 and eked out a 55 to 53 win at Bexley.

Then Xenia Central broke the jinx by downing the Fayette Coountains 57 to 54. Although behind, the Blue Lions almost closed the gap in a thrilling finish.

* * *

THEIR NEXT CONTEST was against Wilmington. Although the final score was 64 to 45, it must be said that the Hurricane are considered the strongest team in the SCOL.

Last Tuesday, WCH took on a team which CHS has also played—London. The Blue Lions proceded to drub London 54 to 43; London had defeated CHS earlier in the season 63 to 38, for those who use the crystal ball.

The Tigers have yet to come out on the winning end of a score. They lost to Athens, Chillicothe, London and Columbus Linden-McKinley.

However, there has been a marked improvement in the CHS play. Their last contest against Linden Tuesday night was an amazing effort. Linden's shortest man was not much smaller than CHS's tallest.

The Tigers looked good enough in defeat Tuesday night to bring out the comment that all they need is one win to be on their way. WCH looked so bad against Wilmington that there is more than just a spark of hope that CHS can win.

* * *

FRED BELLS, Roger Whitley and Ron Meyer seem to be the only consistent scorers for the Blue Lions. In the last three games, Whitley has 41 points, Bells 31 and Meyer 30.

Trojans Schedule Hard Scrimmage

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Trojans of Southern California will drive through an intensive "all out" scrimmage tomorrow at Bovard Field in preparation for their Rose Bowl game against Ohio State.

It will be an offensive drill, with the USC reserves using Ohio State defenses in an attempt to halt the Trojan ground and aerial game. Missing from the scrimmage will be right halfback Lindon Crow, whose right knee still bothers him.

The Trojans will emphasize defense next week and are laying plans to stop the rugged ground game of the Buckeyes.

Basilio Collects Easy Victory

AKRON (AP) — Welterweight contender Carmen Basilio of Syracuse, N. Y., won a three-round technical knockout last night over Ronnie Harper of Detroit.

Christmas SHOPPING

THERE'S SOMETHING about a platform rocker that you do not get in any other rocker — more ease and comfort. Just that old fashioned "take-it-easy" feeling. Give the man of the house a Platform Rocker, he will love it. Priced from $44.50 up at C. J. Schneider Furniture.

HOLLY FOR Christmas giving—housewives who love to entertain and what good housekeeper does not—will be thrilled with a gift of Fostoria glassware. One of the most beautiful of the many gorgeous ones is Holly so appropriate for Christmas giving — a young spritely design for modern living and equally good on traditional tables that cling to ancestral silver. All stemware, $2.15 each, plates from $2.00 at L. M. Butch Co.

SAMSONITE CARD tables, not only make delightful Christmas gifts but they are an addition to any home. They are so strong and sturdy they may be used in so many different ways. Excellent for serving lunches in the livingroom. See our selection of different colors with matching folding chairs, priced at $7.95 and $13.95 for the tables—chairs at $6.95. Griffith Floorcovering and Furniture, East Main St. at Lancaster Pike.

CONSIDER HER HEALTH this Christmas—give her a new Norge automatic clothes dryer for only $149.95—outperforms most other brands costing up to $75 more. Can be used on both 110 and 220 volts—plug it in anywhere. Come in — we will demonstrate why Norge's lower heat level and greater air power combined with gentle tumbling — dries clothes faster, more gently. A low down payment and easy terms may be arranged. Boyer's Hardware, 810 S. Court St.

LAMPS FOR her boudoir would be a gift of gifts for the debutante. Something to enhance the beauty of her surroundings. A pair of lamps for her dressing table or a reading lamp for the bedside—pin-up lamps for various places. $3.95 up at Mason Furniture.

BEFORE BUYING toys for the children see the scale model live action steel toys, nationally advertised — trucks, tractors, tournarockers haulers, road graders, cattle trailers, scrapers, motor express and many others — all scale models of their dads, faultlessly engineered. Made of strong heavy gauge steel, baked enamel finish, rubber tired metal wheels —these are gifts that children will love and enjoy for years—Harpster & Yost.

"ROUND-ABOUT" is the name of the Flex-Let watch band that would make a wonderful Christmas gift for any man on your list. It's the only watch band that is contour-engineered to blend with round watches. It has curved links and ends that are especially styled to follow curves of round watches. Enhances the style of any round watch. Rarely needs repair, never a repair charge. Stop in today and complete your Christmas shopping list. L. M. Butch Co.

GIVE HER MIRRORS — She will respond to your thoughtfulness on Christmas morning if her gift is a beautiful Mirror. We have plate glass mirrors to hang over the mantle, for the bedroom, diningroom, hall and in fact for any room in the house. Priced from $8.95 at C. J. Schneider Furniture.

CHRISTMAS IS A wonderful time to start the young lady's hope chest of Sterling silver. Select Towle Silver in one of these patterns—Silver Flutes, Candlelight Chippendale, Madeira, Old Lace and Rambler Rose. A 6 piece place setting of any of these patterns would cost $29.75. The setting would consist of teaspoon, knife, fork, butter spreader, cream soup spoon and salad fork. L. M. Butch Co.

YOUNGSTERS OF ALL ages enjoy music. Help them appreciate good music. Get an Admiral automatic radio-phonograph and select the records for them. In a mahogany cabinet 9 inches high that loads up to 14 records for $79.95 at Hoover Music Store.

GIVE DAD A Lantern—a Justrite electric lantern—handy for the home, farm, car or camp — wherever a powerful light is needed. Uses 4 flashlight batteries. Steel case $2.95 — a Delta flashing lantern at $6.75 at Harpster and Yost.

HE NEED NOT be in the service to enjoy a Military Watch. Because it is such an excellent buy and so good and durable an Elgin Military watch would make a wonderful Christmas gift for any man, young or old. These watches are shock-proof and water-proof and come in both yellow and white gold cases. Priced from $55 up at Horn's Gift Shop.

ONE WAY TO KEEP the man of the house home evenings is to get him a hobby. Everyone is interested in some particular work more than others so cater to that whim until it becomes a hobby. Hoover Music Co. has "what it takes" to do that very thing. Stop in to see the many and varied ways of keeping minds and fingers busy.

BRING YOUR Christmas list to the Pyrex Ware counter — here are to be found gifts for every woman on your list. A nest of 4 bright colored mixing bowls at $3.50; oven and refrigerator set 4 gaily colored dishes with clear glass covers, $3.25; a clear glass tea pot 6 qt. size $2.25; percolators in 4, 6, 9 cup sizes $2.75 to $3.95 and a double boiler, 1½ qt. size $3.95 at Harpster and Yost.

SAY MERRY CHRISTMAS to the home with a gift of Lovely Solid Cherry or Maple Furniture by Willett. Down in Old Kentucky where the South begins is built this exciting new and different furniture. You'll see what we mean when you glance at that roomy chest and delicately carved bedstead in enduring good taste and style and substantial too. Just right in any setting. You can collect this Wildwood Cherry or beautiful Maple piece by piece from open stock at your Willett dealer. Mason Furniture.

BUY YOUR Christmas Gifts now —pay later—give the family a new 1955 Motorola Television set —at the lowest prices ever — a 21" screen table model costs only $159.95. You pay only $10 down the balance may be paid in small payments arranged to your convenience. Make certain you give the best—Motorola from B. F. Goodrich Co.

Kiner Seen Asked To Take Larger Salary

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Kiner probably will be asked to sign a new 1955 contract with the Cleveland Indians when he and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick meet here Saturday.

Frick disclosed yesterday he was holding up approval of Kiner's contract in which the slugging outfielder volunteered to take a salary cut above the 25 per cent limit.

Kiner, who received a reported $65,000 with the Chicago Cubs last season, was traded to Cleveland last month. Figuring his poor season with the Cubs entitled him to no more than $40,000 for next year, he signed his new contract with the Indians Tuesday.

Reports persisted, however, that other players would disapprove such a procedure, figuring a dangerous precedent would be set.

In Pittsburgh, Kiner said he still didn't see anything wrong with the contract, but if Frick wanted him to sign a new contract, he would abide. The new contract presumably would be around $49,000 on the basis of a 25 per cent cut.

It took the game's hired hands a long time and a lot of sweat to push through the rule in 1947 which says their salaries could not be cut more than 25 per cent in a single year. Before that, it was not unusual for a player who had had a poor year, or one who had been traded to a second-division club, to find his pay slashed in half, or worse.

It is a rule very dear to the hearts of the men it was designed to protect against greedy owners.

Buckeyes Ready For Roses Jaunt

Browns Prove Local Talent Alone Produces Champions

CLEVELAND (AP)—Win or lose in the two upcoming games with the Detroit Lions — one non-important and the other all-important, the Cleveland Browns have proved you don't have to go far afield to gather a winning batch of football teaching talent.

Precision Paul with a record no mentor has ever matched through the high school, college, service and professional fields always has had the knack of surrounding himself with able assistants.

Many coaches reach over here for a line mentor, over there for an end tutor, somewhere else for other assistants.

Brown, in a coaching career stretching from 1930 through last Sunday, has complied a record of 233 victories, 38 losses and 9 ties. As a pro he's won 103, lost 17 and tied 3 in championship play.

Back in 1932, when he took over the Massillon High School reins at his alma mater after a two-year 16-1-1 record at Severn Prep, one of his ends was 135-pound Fritz Heisler. At center was Howard Brinker. On the Canton McKinley coaching staff, Massillon's most revered foe only six miles away, was Paul Bixler.

Heisler and Brinker both went on to Miami U., where Brown had played as a 130-pound quarterback. After graduation both joined Brown on the Massillon coaching staff.

In 1941, when Brown — with a 58-1-1 record in his last 6 years—took over the Ohio State job, Heisler went along. Brinker moved to Steubenville. Both went into the service, Heisler coming back to join Brown with the professionals, and Brinker going to Ohio U. with Carroll Widdoes, who earlier had followed Brown from Massillon to Ohio State. Widdoes took over as head coach of the Bucks when Paul entered the Navy and coached Great Lakes.

Bixler, after the Canton McKinley job, went along with Jimmy Aiken to Akron U., later became a Brown assistant at Ohio State, and became head coach there as Widdoes stepped down voluntarily.

And there you have the heart of the Browns coaching staff — those four old friends and playmates, Brown, Heisler, Brinker and Bixler.

But it doesn't end there. The fifth man is Ed Ulinski. Big Ed was an outstanding guard with the Browns through the four years—1946-49—when they swept through four straight All - American Conference seasons, winning 52 games, losing 1 and tying 3.

The former Marshall star took time out to become an assistant at Santa Clara and Purdue, after the 1949 season, but Paul called him back into the fold this year to complete the quintet which has coached the Cleveland club to its ninth straight division championship and its fifth straight in the National League, a feat no other pro club ever accomplished.

Brown also reached into his past for key players on the club. Tommy James, the great defensive halfback, and Horace Gillom, the league's top punter, played for Paul at Massillon. Lou Groza, the placekicker, and Dante Lavelli, the pass-snatching end, were at Ohio State when Brown was there.

Illinois Again Making Fools Of Guessperts

The Illini gridders this season were ranked near the top nationally in all pre-season reckonings. They won one, lost eight.

The Illinois cagers entered this season with a so-so tag, yet Saturday night will be seeking to stretch an unbeaten skein to five against invading Notre Dame. Only Illinois and Ohio State are undefeated in the Big Ten non-loop play, preliminary to the start of the league race next month.

Currently third - ranked in the weekly Associated Press poll, the Illini have bowled over Butler 88-34, Missouri 77-49, Oklahoma A&M 59-53 and Miami 97-72.

While the Illini are trying to make it 5 against a good Notre Dame team, Saturday's nationally televised Big Ten game will find Northwestern entertaining Tulane over CBS at 3 p. m. EST.

The Big Ten's only other unbeaten team beside Illinois, Ohio State (3-0), Saturday plays at the university of Oklahoma. Other Saturday games include Indiana at Cincinnati; Michigan State at Penn; Michigan at Washington of St. Louis; Iowa at Princeton; Minnesota at Oklahoma A & M; Purdue at Butler; and Louisiana State at Wisconsin.

Langlois Aide Loses Round In Olson Test

Chairman Tony Entenza of the California Athletic Commission late yesterday rejected Kanter's contention the 15-round title fight, ending in a TKO of Langlois in the 11th Wednesday night, should be declared a draw.

He imposed a two-week suspension on Kanter and demanded a written apology from the New York agent because of the latter's charges the fight was stopped as a result of Langlois being butted so badly the Frenchman's eyelid was split open.

Californias new "butt rule" reads that if a fighter is leading on points when a fight is stopped because of an injury caused by butting, he receives the decision; if he is trailing on points and butting causes an end to the fight he gets a draw.

The referee stopped the Olson-Langlois fight in 58 seconds of the 11th round because of a deep gash over Pierre's left eyelid. Don Shields, former fight commission inspector, said movies showed Olson opened the cut with a long right hand punch in the sixth round.

Baker Victory May Mean Little

Baker, like all heavyweights, has his eye on a shot at Rocky Marciano's title, but he'll have to take his place at the end of the line.

Don Cokell, the British boxer, is a good bet to get the June match with Marciano, when and if Rocky decides to go back to work. Nino Valdes, the big Cuban who knocked out Hurricane Tommy Jackson, is No. 1 in most ratings. Cockell and Valdes look like the next two opponents for Rocky with both fighting to be first.

Seixas, Trabert In Challenge Round

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert sent the United States into the Davis Cup Challenge Round again today with a 6-3, 6-4, 6-3 doubles victory over Sweden's Lennart Bergelin and Sven Davidson.

The triumph made the Yanks' margin in the best-of-five event 3-0 and makes tomorrow's two final singles matches mere formalities. In fact, nonplaying captain Billy Talbert said he would rest Seixas and send national intercollegiate champion Hamilton Richardson of Tulane into the fray against Davidson. Trabert will play Bergelin.

Columbus May Bid For Ottawa Team

COLUMBUS (AP)—Left without a professional baseball team when the Red Birds franchise was shifted to Omaha, Columbus may bid for the Ottawa franchise of the International League.

Columbus is competing with a Florida combine which also would like to buy the franchise. Reported price is $50,000. Ottawa also would like to keep the franchise despite its poor financial showing.
